

IRISHMAN TELLS COMMITTEE OF BALBRIGGAN RAID

Town Commissioner, Before Committee of 100 Session, Says "Black and Tans" Make Raids Without Cause

DESCRIBES ATTACK AT NIGHT IN SEPTEMBER

John Derham Says Militia Yelled and Burned and Fired Weapons—Declares He Was Dragged.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Charging that the "black and tan" militia in Ireland made raids without provocation, John Derham, town commissioner of Balbriggan, Ireland, today gave the committee of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question what he described as details of the September raid on his home, which, he said, resulted in the death of a half dozen persons.

"The 'black and tan' spent a night of yelling, burning and shooting," said Derham. "All of us were ready to collapse at this new outbreak, for we did not know what would happen to us next."

The Balbriggan commissioner declared that two men were stabbed by the militia, but that an inquiry by the authorities failed to fix responsibility for the act. A score of houses were burned.

Tells of Being Dragged. He said he was dragged along the street to the police barracks and finally placed in the town's hotel along with a hundred other refugees, all of whom believed they were held under arrest. His son also was clubbed by the police, Derham said.

"The 'black and tan' Derham continued, broke into a garage and seized petrol with which they burned houses. Business houses were looted and bars raided. It was charged, liquor being drunk in the streets by the 'black and tan' and also carried off in their motors. The final act of destruction, Derham said, was the burning of the $500,000 hosier factory, which supplied employment for about 400 townspeople, and which was owned by an English company of London.

"The object was to destroy employment and leave destitution in the town," said Derham.

During the weeks following the first raid, Derham declared, armed forces roamed through the streets, troopers firing shots into shops and houses and throwing shrapnel bombs.

Two Priests From U. S. Tell of Conditions in Ireland.

Four witnesses, including Dennis Moran, chairman of the National Council of Thurles, Ireland, and three Americans who visited Ireland recently—John F. Martin of Green Bay, Wis., and two clergymen, Father Michael English of Whitehall, Mont., and Father James H. Cotter of Ironton, O.—were heard by the commission yesterday.

Father Cotter, a Catholic editor, told of the killing of a Galway civilian by a British soldier without cause, he said. The soldier, he said, was seized by another civilian and reprisals against the town followed an hour later. Soldiers shot up the streets "for no reason," he said. The aged priest added that he lay for an hour and a half under a window ledge of his hotel to escape the flying bullets. The military, he added, led out to two houses and fired into a Galway newspaper plant, whose management was friendly to the Republican movement.

PLEA MADE FOR AMERICA BEFORE LEAGUE MEETING

Yesterday the Assembly completed its organization by the election of six vice presidents, who, with the six chairmen of the committee, selected Wednesday, form a part of the Executive Committee of the Assembly. The non-European nations obtained four vice presidents instead of the three they had asked for. These are: Viscount Ishii, Japan; Hector Puerrredoni, Argentina; Sir George E. Foster, Canada, and Rodrigo Octavio, Brazil. The other vice presidents are H. A. Karnabeek, Holland, and Dr. Eduard Benes, Czechoslovakia.

Pictureque features of the session were furnished by Baron Hayashi, head of the Japanese delegation, Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway, Gustave Ador, ex-president of Switzerland, and the two leading members of the Brazilian delegation.

A curious result of the first ballot for vice presidents was a tie between Rodrigo Octavio, the Brazilian undersecretary for foreign af-

INCREASING LEAGUE ACTIVITY SHOWN IN DECISION TO SEND MILITARY FORCE TO VILNA

Spain to Furnish Two Companies and Britain, France and Belgium Detachments for "Popular Consultation."

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—Consequent upon the British Government's decision to support the program of occupying disputed territory in Lithuania, the League of Nations for the first time has a military force at its disposal. Announcement to this effect on behalf of the council of the league was made last evening. In addition to British, French, and Belgian contingents, the league "army" will include two companies of Spanish infantry.

These troops, operating under the general direction of the league's military advisers, will be sent to the Vilna region in the near future to supervise the "popular consultation" by which it has been decided to settle the future disposition of the territory in dispute between Poland and Lithuania. As Poland is now exercising jurisdiction in the Vilna territory through the medium of Gen. Zeigowski's volunteers, the effect of the league action will be to deprive Poland of her influence over the population.

While news of this decision has just been given out by the council, it is known that favorable response to the occupation program was received from France and Belgium some time ago. Whether Spain agreed to participate before or after the decision is not made clear.

France Modifies Attitude. It is regarded here as curious that France should have so appreciably modified what was considered to be her attitude toward Poland by consenting to deprive her of the advantages of Zeigowski's occupation. Ever since Zeigowski's march on Vilna at the conclusion of Polish peace with Soviet Russia it had been thought in well informed quarters that France was inclined to favor the presence there of Polish troops in preference to those of Lithuania, who, it was feared, might be too easily tempted by German offers of anti-Polish co-operation.

The Vilna difficulty, for which the League of Nations was called upon to act, was quickly to disclaim any responsibility, was handled by the League of Nations Council with little success at the meeting in Paris, when Ignace Paderewski, for Poland, and Prof. Waldemar for Lithuania undertook to transmit to their governments' councils a resolution for amicable settlement of the dispute.

For reasons still undetermined the council's resolution remained a dead letter. Subsequent appeals to Poland and Lithuania by Leon Bourgeois, president of the council—some of them couched in terms far from mild—brought no satisfactory response until it was proposed that an armed military force should supervise the "popular consultation."

The council's announcement aroused enthusiasm here as it is calculated to demonstrate once again that it will be possible for the league to support its decisions by armed force. Moreover, the decision is taken to show that the league is determined to enter upon a career of greater activity than was supposed hitherto.

The little states have scored a triumph in their struggle with the principal allied powers for equal participation in the work of the assembly. By dint of skillful collaborations they have won a fair higher proportion of executive posts than had been believed possible.

The British delegation is frankly worried over the poor showing it made in the vice presidential elections. Not only the United Kingdom and Dr. Gaston Da Cunha, the Brazilian Ambassador to France, for sixth vice president. While the Assembly was discussing the proposed vote for the remaining vice president, each candidate insisting that he be allowed to withdraw in favor of the other, a second ballot was taken. As an act of courtesy Giuseppe Motta, president of the Swiss confederation, who had delivered the address of welcome, was elected honorary president of the first Assembly of the league.

The British dominions representatives made it clear that they were assembly without reference to sister dominions or mother country.

but also the Dominions are dissatisfied with the representation in the executive positions. Arthur J. Bal four, chairman of the General Organization Committee, and Sir George E. Foster of Canada are the only Anglo-Saxons among the 12 vice presidents of the assembly.

"These officials with the president and secretary-general, will constitute the assembly 'Steering Committee.'"

Latin-Americans Prominent. In of the British Empire's position is unmistakable. The smallness of the British representation is particularly striking in contrast with three vice presidents. As the three vice chairmanships of committees gained by Latin-Americans.

If France, Belgium, Italy and Spain be included the Latin races hold seven of the 14 positions on the assembly's chief executive body.

Symptomatic of the occult influence exercised by the Japanese delegation—whose aims nobody knows, but which all are extremely anxious to discover—working in close cooperation with the Japanese delegation, is the fact that Viscount Ishii received a heavier majority than any other chairman of committees in the elections for chairman-at-large. It was generally regretted that Wellington Koo of China, who was chosen vice chairman of the Organization Committee, should have been debarred from the presidency of that body.

There has been no question in the efforts to push forward the question of admitting Germany, although it is problematical as ever whether and when a decision will be taken. It would appear that the South American delegates, working in close understanding with their Scandinavian colleagues, are in favor of admitting Germany into the league. This is a topic of private conversation among other delegations.

By no means pleased by the way South Americans and Scandinavians succeeded in making Antonio Huenuen of Chile, one of these who, during the war, stood out for Germany, chairman of the membership committee.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, in his report yesterday on repatriation of war prisoners, and to the assembly following the election of the president, paid high tribute to Germany for the help he said she had afforded him in his task. Incidentally, he expressed three different times his appreciation of the aid which the war prisoner matter of the Russian Soviet Government, and he spoke in warm terms of the work done in this respect by American Red Cross M. C. A. "There can be no doubt," he said, "that the Council of the League of Nations has done a great deal for prisoners' repatriation."

Spanish Marine Infantry to Be Used in Expedition.

By the Associated Press. MADRID, Nov. 19.—The representative of Spain at the League of Nations assembly at Geneva has informed the Government officially that Spain probably will be requested to send troops to Lithuania, the authorities are making preparations to undertake the expedition. They are putting warships in condition and organizing forces belonging to the Marine Infantry for the purpose.

Government officials declare Spain feels its honor at being selected to join in the execution of the task before the league in Lithuania. The Marine Infantry, which is a remarkably well disciplined unit, will be chosen for the purpose because it is in better condition for a foreign expedition than any other branch of the Spanish armed forces.

Poland and Danzig. Under some circumstances the League of Nations might invite Poland to become the military defender of Danzig, that nation has been informed by the council of the league.

It was announced that the council had approved the constitution of Danzig as a free city under guarantee of the league, as previously drafted, with some modifications. Poland being informed that, while it is impossible to accord her the exclusive right of the military defense of Danzig, circumstances might arise under which the league might invite Poland to undertake the city's defense.

Ignace Paderewski, former Premier of Poland, signed the convention between Poland and the Free City of Danzig yesterday afternoon in Paris. The convention provides for the establishment of a commission composed half of Poles and half of residents of Danzig, to control the city's defense.

Henry Reichmann, 78 years old, a retired farmer, living with his son, Henry Reichmann Jr., 23234 North tenth street, was found in bed partly asphyxiated and with the gas turned on this afternoon. His son, Henry, said that he had seemed despondent for some time when he and Poffenbarger threw the sacks from the car.

Robbers Loot Safety Deposit Vault of Bank at Eolia, Mo.

Sixty Customers' Boxes and $100 Taken—$45,000 to $50,000 in Safe.

Chairman Will Hays Carries Point to Collect $1,600,000 From Small Subscribers.

CANVASS FOR FUNDS SOON TO BEGIN

Daugherty, Who Has Become Big Power Behind Throne, Has Recommended Hays for Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Will Hays has carried his point. The deficit of $1,600,000 incurred by the Republican National Committee in the last election will be collected from small subscribers and there will be a $1000 limit to the amounts that can be accepted.

Hays has from the start favored the small contribution on the ground that it elicits the interest of the many instead of the few, and that it places the successful candidate under no embarrassing obligations.

The canvass for funds will soon be begun. It is a fact that Hays could have gone out and collected $1,600,000 from a few men in two weeks' time, but he had the united support of his colleagues on the Campaign Committee when he favored collecting the deficit in exactly the same way as the campaign funds themselves were raised.

REFUGEES IN CONSTANTINOPLE NOW NUMBER ABOUT 100,000

Resolution Adopted by Americans Calling on U. S. to Aid in Relieving Situation.

By the Associated Press. CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—An order of the day issued by Gen. Baron Wrangel of the Russian volunteer army estimates the number of refugees in Constantinople and vicinity at upward of 100,000. Local committees and charitable institutions are working to alleviate the condition of the refugees. Russian ships abroad have been ordered to come here to relieve the congested steamers now in the harbor and prevent an epidemic. Ten thousand additional refugees were landed today and given shelter and food.

At a meeting today of American citizens representing relief and commerce in the city, a resolution was adopted calling upon Admiral Hugh Bristol, the American High Commissioner, to cable the United States Government for funds to mitigate the disaster. The resolution also called upon President Wilson to appeal to the American people to give generously to the American Red Cross and other relief organizations.

The cost of feeding the refugees amounts to nearly a million francs (about $200,000 nominally), daily, the resolution says.

TWELVE HOLDUPS IN NINE HOURS; WATCHMAN SHOT

Robber in Undertaker's Place Fires, Wounding Guard Who Knocked Him Down With Fist.

ONE MAN STRIPPED OF HIS CLOTHING

Another Slashed by Negro When He Ignores Command to Throw Up Hands—Grocery Robbed.

In a series of 12 holdups reported between 6 o'clock last night and 3 o'clock this morning one man was stripped of his clothing down to his underwear, another was robbed of his automobile in Forest Park and a private watchman was shot in the elbow. One holdup took place on a driveway leading to the Portland garage, near Union boulevard and Pershing avenue, and the robber was frustrated by the approach of several automobiles.

At 3 o'clock this morning Timothy Moriarty, 54 years old, of 6610A Virginia avenue, was walking for the Southern Literary and Undertaking Co., 7415 South Broadway, discovered a man trying to start a motor car in the rear part of the garage. The place was dimly lighted, and Moriarty could scarcely make out the form of the man. As he approached the stranger produced a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands.

Moriarty knocked the robber down with a blow on the jaw and fell upon him. They rolled about and the robber got up and exclaimed "Damn you, didn't I tell you to throw up your hands?" Moriarty struck him again and the man fired. The bullet cut away a piece of flesh from the watchman's elbow and the robber ran away, dropping his revolver.

Moriarty turned the weapon over to the police and had his wound dressed by a physician. The revolver was of 22 caliber and contained an empty shell and four loaded ones.

Grant B. Geering, of 6449 Pershing avenue was held up at the point of a revolver by a young man on the driveway leading to the Portland garage at 8:30 p. m. Just as Geering complied with an order to put up his hands an automobile entered the driveway from the street, and the robber thrust his revolver into his pocket and told Geering to lower his hands. As the automobile passed the robber, he threw off his gun, and Geering directed him to the United States hospital. When the car had passed the robber again ordered Geering to put up his hands, but was again interrupted by the approach of another automobile. In a tone of disgust he told Geering to get down his hands and walked away.

Two men walked into the butcher shop of Henry Weber, 3118 North Twenty-fifth street, at 6 p. m., ordered the proprietor to put up his hands and face the wall and took $15 from the cash register.

Fifteen minutes later two men entered a Kroger grocery at 3535 North Twenty-fifth street, four blocks from the butcher shop, and the manager, Frank Zuelling, of 2114 Mallinckrodt street, and two customers, Gus Meyer, 2304A Palm street, and Miss Katherine Kochen of 2304 Palm street, to put up their hands. The robbers took $110 from the cash register and backed out.

Attempt to Rob Grocery.

At 8:30 p. m., a man displaying a revolver, appeared at the front door of another Kroger grocery at 2502 North Jefferson avenue just as the manager, Louis Foulk of 2384 Washington street, was locking the place for the night. He ordered Foulk to open the door, but the latter ran to the rear part of the store. The robber placed his revolver in a holster attached to the waistband of his trousers and walked away.

Timothy Sullivan of 114 North Ninth street was held up by a negro at Thirtieth and Market streets at 8:40 p. m., when he ignored a command to throw up his hands. The negro drew a knife and slashed him across the left shoulder. The negro took $20 from Sullivan's trousers pocket and fled.

Two men got out of an automobile and rang the doorbell at the home of Mrs. Mattie Morgan, 50 years old, of 1214 North Sarah street, at 8 p. m. When she responded they pushed their way into the house and told her they had some gun they wanted to sell to her for $35. She ordered them to leave, and when one of the men produced a revolver she screamed. The men ran from the house.

"Detectives" Rob Him of $20.

Two men who introduced themselves as detectives, stopped Frank A. Smith of 904 North Broadway and Mrs. Jennie Franklin of 1317 North Twenty-fourth street on Washington street, at 12:10 a. m., and informed them that they were "under arrest." After walking a half block the "detectives" asked Smith if he had $10. He said he had nothing smaller than a $20 bill and they said that would do. Smith handed over the money and the men ran away.

Man Robbed of His Clothing.

Two men wearing soldiers' uniforms held up Henry Kissel of 1601 North Eleventh street, on a lot near Chestnut and Tower Grove avenues at 8:00 p. m., and after taking his watch, stickpin and 50 cents from

MOTHER TELLS OF ABANDONING BABY

Young Woman Declares Father of Infant Found Nearly Frozen Deserted Her.

Miss Emily Altmyer, 23, who rooms with her mother at 3507 Lindell avenue, related today at police headquarters how she came to abandon her 2-months-old baby Ruth, last Monday night just inside the fence encircling the Bethesda Foundling Home, 3641 Vista avenue.

The infant was not found until Tuesday at 6:15 a. m. Both its hands were frozen, though it appears at this time that amputation will not be necessary.

Miss Altmyer said that last May she demanded that a man whose name she gave and to whom she said she had been engaged, marry her. He told her, she said, that he would go to Detroit, establish a home and would send for her. She has not seen or heard from him since his departure, she said.

Her baby was born at the city hospital last Sept. 23 and as soon as she was able she sought work. She said that the Board of Children's Guardians obtained a housework job for her in a family in which there were two boarders and where she was paid $2 a week and board. The wages were insufficient, she said, to buy milk for the baby. The family soon began to complain that the baby cried and she, said, and told her that if she remained she must take the baby elsewhere.

She said that her mother was earning only enough to support herself, so that she could not appeal to her. When the family in which she lived grew more insistent that she take the baby away, she said, she took it to the Bethesda Home, wrapped it in a little "rabbitt" blanket, tucked its arms inside the blanket and left it in the yard. The mother subsequently was traced through a nurse at the city hospital who had given the baby the blanket. The mother was arrested last night.

INDIAN CONVENTION HERE CLOSES WITH VARIED PROGRAM

Session Includes Addresses, Moving Pictures and Song Recital by Indian Soprano, Tsianina.

MONKS' MOUND VISITED BY DELEGATES TODAY

Abolishment of Bureau System on Reservations Urged in Resolutions Adopted by Society.

The ninth annual convention of the Society of American Indians is scheduled to close today, although the delegates probably will remain in session tomorrow to discuss important matters pertaining to the advancement of the race which have not yet been brought before the assembly. The delegates were taken this morning in a special street car for a visit to Monks' Mound, near Collinsville, Ill.

More than 2500 St. Louis citizens who filled the auditorium of Soldan High School last night to witness the show given by the Indian delegates, unanimously approved a resolution adopted by the Indians yesterday afternoon for the abolishment of the Indian Bureau system, which the Indians charge has been unjust in its administration over the tribes on the reservations.

The resolution was indorsed following a description of the Indian reservation system, by Dr. Carlos Montezuma, an Apache. As an example of how the environment of the Indian reservation had hindered the advancement of the race, Dr. Montezuma described his capture by the Pima Scouts in 1871, and told how, when he was taken to their camp, he met a red-headed Irish boy of his own age, who was being cared for by the Indians. Later Dr. Montezuma was sold by the tribe and he went East.

Irish Boy Had Turned Indian.

A few years ago he was visited in Indian reservation in Montana, and saw a white man dressed in full Indian regalia, his skin tanned to the hue of an Indian. He learned that the man was called "Mickey," and stopped to talk to him. He noticed from under the Indian bonnet there protruded streaks of her hair. The "Indian" proved to be the red-headed Irish boy he had met years before.

Dr. Montezuma said he found that the white man could speak nothing but the Indian tongue, while he, during his years in the East, had forgotten the Indian language, and he, an Indian, had to get an interpreter to talk to a white man who could not speak the English language.

"That boy had been reared under the charge of the Indian bureau on a reservation," he said, in concluding his story. "He was uneducated, uncultured. He was even more of an Indian than the Indians themselves."

Indian Singer Gives Recital.

The feature of the program was the singing of Tsianina, the noted Indian mezzo-soprano, and her story, "The Land of the Sky Blue Water," taken from an Indian legend, in which Tsianina played the leading part.

The film, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," has just been released, and was produced by Tsianina and other Indians. It purports to show the Indian as he really is.

Thomas L. Sloan, an attorney of Washburn, D. C., was re-elected president of the society at yesterday afternoon's meeting at the Planters Hotel. Sloan was born in St. Louis, although his father, James A. Sloan, was a graduate of St. Louis University.

Robert Hamilton of the Blackfeet tribe was elected vice president in charge of legislation, to succeed Congressman C. D. Carter of Oklahoma, who recently resigned.

By the Associated Press. YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 19.—In a statement today to employees of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., the largest independent steel company in the Youngstown district, James A. Campbell, president, said: "It is not likely that there will be a general reduction of wages for some time. There surely will be later on," the statement continued, "not, however, until the cost of living has been further reduced."

Young was injured by the resentment of East Side officials and others by the vigor of his enforcement of the prohibition law. Before the killing of Vukovic he complained to Federal Judge English about hindrances placed in his way by officials.

MEN HELD FOR ILLICIT DISTILLING

Three Quarts of Newly Made Raison Whisky Confiscated.

Prohibition enforcement agents yesterday arrested George Wueneschle, 62 years old, of 3961 Sarry avenue, at his home, where they say he was found distilling raisin whisky. With a small still, made of a tea kettle, a funnel and a small piece of copper tubing. About three quarts of newly distilled raisin whisky were confiscated. Wueneschle was charged with violating the Volstead act and was released under $1000 bond.

The agents also visited the home of George Vincent, 43 years old, at 3245 Church of Christ at Greensburg, Ind., three years ago, by the Rev. F. Z. Burkett, who is now pastor of the King's Highway Christian Church, King's highway and Labadie avenue. Chief Fox is doing missionary work on the Yakima reservation.

Chief Fox will address the Sunday school of the King's Highway Christian Church at 9:30 a. m. Sunday. Several years ago he and a companion rode from Yakima to Washington, D. C., on ponies, to discuss Indian problems with President Wilson and urge that Indians be granted full citizenship.

REMOVAL WRIT ISSUED IN CASE OF DRY OFFICER

U. S. Attorney at Springfield Seeks to Have Murder Charge Against S. G. Young Sent to Federal Court.

OTHER PRISONERS ATTACK DEFENDANT

Government Official Says Madison County Sheriff Disregarded His Request in Causing Young's Arrest.

A Deputy United States Marshal was sent from Springfield, Ill., to Edwardsville, today, to serve on the Madison County authorities a writ of certiorari removing from the Madison County Circuit Court to the United States District Court at Springfield the case of S. Glenn Young, East St. Louis prohibition enforcement officer, indicted by the Madison County grand jury last Wednesday for the killing of Luka Vukovic at Madison, Nov.

The writ was issued by Federal Judge Fitzhery last night after Young had been arrested in Springfield on request of Sheriff Little of Madison County, and locked up with prohibition violators who attacked him and threw hot water on him.

Commenting today on the attack on Young, while in the custody of Sheriff Mester of Sangamon County, Judge Fitzhery said: "This is a grave matter, and worthy of the most careful investigation on the part of the United States Court."

United States District Attorney Knotts said today that the arrest of Young was in disregard of a request telephoned to State Attorney Streuber Monday that if an indictment was returned against Young, serving be withheld until Friday to give Knotts an opportunity to have the case removed to the United States Court, on the ground that Young is a Federal official.

"In spite of that request," he said, "Sheriff Little of Madison County placed a number of 'bullpen' with a number of violators of the prohibition law who had been arrested by Young. They attacked him and tore his clothing and threw hot water on him. Madison County is a hotbed of prohibition law violations. About 100 residents of that county have been convicted of such violations. The situation speaks for itself."

HARDING WANTS TO SEE RIVER DEVELOPMENT

Says He Knows Needs of Mississippi Valley and Will Try to Aid.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—A Post-Dispatch correspondent asked President-elect Harding as he was about to depart from New Orleans yesterday for Panama for an expression of his views upon the use of the Mississippi River for shipping. He had had opportunity here to inspect the facilities of this port which is the port of the Mississippi Valley. "Mississippi transportation," Harding exclaimed, "I'm for it. You may say that I am absolutely for its development. Transportation is one of our greatest problems and we must develop every branch of it if we are to progress. This huge Mississippi Valley is developing and I will do my best to further its progress as well as every other section of the United States."

"You know, I am of the Mississippi Valley and I know its needs. I will do all I can to aid river traffic."

Harding while here received an inquiry upon the subject of the use of the Mississippi for shipping from President W. Frank Carter of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. He indicated that he would reply later.

KAISER NOT LIKELY TO BE TRIED IN BRITISH COURTS

Commons Fails to Adopt Suggestion That He Be Tried in His Absence.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—It seems now to be finally settled that the former German Emperor is not to be tried here.

The question was asked the other day of Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons by Charles Frederick White, Liberal member for West Derbyshire, whether, "in view of the fact that Holland has refused extradition of William Hohenzollern, the Supreme Council would summon him for trial, and, in the event of his nonappearance, would arrange that he shall be tried in his absence so that the promise that he would be tried in London might be fulfilled."

A written reply was made by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the House of Commons, saying: "The Government is not prepared to adopt this suggestion."

CONFERENCES SOON TO UNIFORM WAGE SCALE

Secretary of Building Industries Association Predicts Agreement by March 1 Next.

The proposition of the Building Trades Council, representing 21 affiliated unions comprising a membership of 10,000 building craftsmen, to enter into a contract for a uniform wage of $1.25 an hour for all union building workmen to run for a period of one year, will be submitted to conferences between representatives of the Master Builders' Association and the Building Trades Council in time to reach an agreement by March 1, 1921, when the building season opens, Frank G. Boyd, secretary of the Building Industries Association, said today.

Boyd said that for two years the building contractors had been endeavoring to get the council to adopt a uniform wage contract, and that the conferences would begin soon after the council communicates with the association.

"I do not anticipate any hitch in the matter," said Boyd. "The proposition to stabilize wages in the building trades is a good move. The public will benefit, because the contractors will be assured that wages will be stationary during the life of the contract. There are only a few trades in the building group now receiving less than $1.25 an hour, and their contracts expire around the first of the year, at which time they would have requested increases, so I do not believe that the proposition to establish a uniform wage of $1.25 an hour will meet with any opposition."

Under the present system, the contracts of individual unions expire at different times during the year, and the contractors, not knowing when a demand for increased wages might have to be met, have had difficulty in estimating the cost of construction.

WOMAN'S SECOND LOSSLiquor Was Stolen From Another Home of Mrs. Palmer Less Than Month Ago.By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The newest great jewel mystery, the robbing of Mrs. Charlotte King Palmer in her home at 59 East 90th street, became more mysterious than ever yesterday. For this affair of Tuesday morning was the second robbery within a fortnight or so of which the former actress was the victim.
Her summer home at Long Beach was broken into and looted early this month; and there are circumstances about the two thefts which indicate there may be a connection between them.Scotch whisky valued at $1000 was taken at Long Beach. The episode of Tuesday morning, Mrs. Palmer says, cost her more than $300,000 in jewels. But the first looting may bear an important relation to the second.On the morning of Monday, Nov.
8, a man telephoned the Guardian Bureau, a private detective agency, and asked Dick Kuhne, "Are you a finger print expert?"

"Yes, sir," replied Kuhne.

"This is Commander Phillips, U.
S. N.," the voice said. "A friend of mine down here in Long Beach has been robbed and we want to see if thieves left any mark behind."

Finger Prints Photographed.

The following day Kuhne visited the Long Beach home and found finger prints on the white enameled door of the liquor closet. Mrs. Palmer said she suspected two guests.
As both had served in the war, according to Kuhne, Commander Phillips said he could get their prints from the War and Navy Departments. A. J. Drummond, who photographed the Long Beach finger prints, was the first visitor to the 90th street house Tuesday morning after the robbery. He reached there at 8:45 with the photographs of the marks, but found Mrs. Palmer too excited to look at them.A general search was made at the Nineteenth street house for finger prints yesterday by detectives. They took finger prints of Mrs. Palmer, of the Lieutenant Commander, of the Filipino butler, Alfredo Sazone, and of the maid, Margaret Cribben. These prints were wanted, the detectives said, so they might not be confounded with marks possibly left behind by the robbers.$300,000 Necklace Stolen.The pearl necklace stolen Monday night, Mrs. Palmer said, was worth $300,000. Her former husband, James C. Parrish Jr., confirmed this valuation yesterday. The necklace and a wrist watch she stuffed into her corset. One of the men pulled out the string of jewels. Trying to deceive them, she said: "This is the good. I bought it for $5 at a department store." But the holdup man said: "It looks more like it is worth $100," and took it. The house was looted of all jewels and furs and other articles which could easily be carried. These included the pearl necklace, a diamond-studded bracelet, a diamond and sapphire pin, two diamond-topped hairpins, a gold and diamond-studded mesh bag, a gold purse and smaller gold articles. Several fur stoles were taken, including one of sable, five feet long.The Federal Insurance Co., which carries the risk on Mrs. Palmer's valuables, said its loss would not exceed $53,000. This is for the articles apart from the necklace. It is said this was insured separately for $40,- 000.200 VOICES TO BE IN CHORUS AT

VISION BY WIRE, AIM OF INVENTOR

Edouard Belin to Resume Study After Perfecting Sending Photos by Wireless.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—M. Edouard
Belin, inventor of the process of sending photographs by wire over long distances, delivered an address on his scientific work at a reception given in his honor by the Alliance Francaise at the Waldorf-Astoria last evening.

After briefly sketching the long history of the origin of telephotography, M. Belin recalled a few of the names of the inventors of processes for the electric transmission of messages, words and pictures, almost all of them American or French.

The dream that has been pursued so long, the chimera that seems to annihilate distance forever—that of television—should not, he said,
be confused with telephotography.
We are now able to transmit pictures by telegraph; to see at a distance is the work of tomorrow, of the very near future.

Telephotography has been possible only since the creation of sufficiently sensitive photographic processes. It was first studied by the German Prof. Korn; then by one of his assistants, the English engineer, Thorne Baker. M. Belin's own system was studied out in an effort to solve once and for all the problem of gradations of light and shade.

After describing his system and showing some lantern slides taken in the World office at the recent demonstrations of sending photographs by wire between New York and St. Louis, M. Belin discussed the future possibilities of the invention. The first object to be attained now, he said, is transmission of pictures by wireless. Work to this end is being conducted in the Belin laboratory, La Mairie, near Paris.
In this M. Marcel Toulou, the young engineer who is assisting M. Belin in America, has become his devoted associate, and M. Belin expressed the conviction that the problem will be solved within a very few months.
Thanks, above all, to the facilities given to him by the competent French authorities.

This undertaking once completed,
M. Belin will resume the studies he began 24 years ago and temporarily suspended, of solving the problem of seeing at a distance. He believes that recent developments of science will enable him to do this also within a short time.

INQUEST OVER THE BODIES OF WEBSTER COUPLE CONTINUED

Two Witnesses Tell of Finding Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Jarrett Dead in Their Home.

The inquest over Raymond E. Jarrett, former army lieutenant, and his wife, Lydia, found dead in bed in their home in Webster Groves, Wednesday, was continued yesterday after two witnesses had testified. It will be resumed when reports are received from chemists and autopsy physicians who are endeavoring to determine the cause of death.

Coroner Denny yesterday said there were indications of corrosion which might have been caused by poison or by gas fumes. When the Jarretts were found two gas grates and several gaslights were burning. Neighbors had observed that the gaslights had been burning since the previous Friday night.

Two Witnesses Testify. The only witnesses who testified yesterday were John F. Donnelly, Chief of Police of Webster Groves, and Morgan Coggeshall of the Webster Groves Trust Co. They entered the house and found the bodies. Coggeshall testified that the air in the house was stifling and had an odor which indicated that gas fumes had accumulated. This odor was so strong, he said, that he and Donnelly had to open a door and step to a porch for air. They then opened some of the windows, he said, and again had to go out for air.

Analysis are being made of the stomach contents and of custard and candy which were found in the room with the bodies. Miss Paulina Kuntze, assistant manager of the New Thought League, 511 North Newstead avenue, went to Webster Groves yesterday afternoon and said Mrs. Jarrett had been a frequent visitor to the league headquarters, having first appeared there last November when she said she was hunting a house or an apartment. Later, Miss Kuntze said, the Jarretts took a house in Maplewood and moved to Webster Groves about six months ago. She said Mrs. Jarrett at times seemed despondent because of her inability to get settled in a home of the kind she wanted. She told Miss Kuntze her home was in Gresham, Pa.

Woman Former Teacher. A dispatch from Gettysburg today said Mrs. Jarrett was reared in York Springs, Pa., graduated from a normal school and taught school in a suburb of Philadelphia. Four years ago she went to the Philippines, where she married Jarrett. Her father, Reuben Underwood, according to the dispatch, moved last year from Gettysburg to Franklin Grove, Ill. Jarrett's father said he would have his son's body cremated here at 3 p. m. tomorrow. A telegram was received from relatives of Mrs. Jarrett saying they would take charge of her body.

TWO POLICEMEN HURT IN COLLISION WITH TRUCK

Members of Emergency Squad in Motorcycle Strike U. S. Mail Auto.

Eugene H. Lever, 28, of 1519 Morstanford road, and Charles T. Grady, 22, of 5505 South Spring avenue, motor cycle policemen attached to the emergency squad at the Magnolia Avenue Police Station, were seriously injured at 8:10 o'clock last night when the motor cycle and side car they were riding was wrecked in collision with a United States mail truck driven by Alois J. Hartmann of 1812 California avenue.

Both were taken to the city hospital, Lever suffering from a double fracture of the left leg and internal injuries, and Grady from internal hurts and scalp wounds. Hartmann was pitched off the truck and was bruised. He was arrested.

Were Responding to Call. The policemen were responding to a hurry call from the vicinity of Klumma street and Cleveland avenue, where some suspicious characters had been seen. As they sped west in Magnolia avenue the mail truck came east and turned north into Lawrence street across the path of the motor cycle. The latter hit the truck in the center and knocked it several feet. Hartmann told the police he was on his regular collection route and had not noticed the motor cycle approaching when he made the turn.

Michael J. Barrett, 22, of 5210 Cate Brillante avenue, a lineman for the Bell Telephone Co., and Matthew Elliot, 26, 4722 Easton avenue, suffered scalp wounds and cuts and bruises when a trouble automobile driven by Barrett overturned in collision with the curbing at Michigan avenue and King's Highway Park. Barrett explained he had swerved to dodge collision with an automobile, causing the accident.

Mark Carberry of 1164A Market street, employed in the City Treasurer's office, driving a city automobile, at Park and Jefferson avenues collided with an automobile driven by Steve Butler of 5411 Easton avenue and glancing off that machine hit an automobile driven by Dr. William D. Aufderheide of 3101 Arsenal street. The city machine was damaged $100 and the others $500 each.

Wesley Candy of 1111A North Hamilton avenue and his 9-month-old son were cut and bruised when an automobile driven by Joseph Candy, 5025 Minerva avenue, collided with a pay car of the United Railways at Lindell boulevard and Euclid avenue. Candy told the police he was watching another car southbound on Euclid avenue and did not see the pay car northbound.

Dr. Walter Kirohner of 4931 McPherson avenue, and Terry Butler, negro, chauffeur for Henry Young of 4651 Maryland avenue, were arrested after their automobiles had collided at Euclid avenue and Horsemans place. Both were charged with careless driving and released on bond. No one was injured in the collision.

South Dakota Plans Memorial. By the Associated Press. PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 19.—The State of South Dakota will erect a memorial building in honor of her sons who died during the world war. It is announced by Gov. Norbeck. The building will probably cost $200,000 and will house the offices of the Adjutant-General, the Museum of War Relics, and contain an auditorium and club rooms for service men.

WIDOW FOUND DEAD IN GAS-FILLED ROOM AT HOME

Mrs. Mary McCoy, 65 years old, of 704 Marion street, a widow, was found dead in a gas-filled room at her home at 7 o'clock last night when an upstairs neighbor crawled into a window to investigate the escape of gas.

Mrs. McCoy was found beside a chair from which she had apparently fallen alongside a gas heater that was burning. A gas jet beside the one to which the heater was attached was open. Policemen, after an investigation, reported they believed Mrs. McCoy had accidentally turned on both jets when she lighted the heater.

She was a tailor employed in a store at Broadway and Washington avenue. A nephew, Thomas Dewey, lives at 2305 1/2 Cherokee street, and a sister lives in Melrose, Iowa.

LOWDEN ASKS FOR SPECIAL THANKSGIVING OBSERVANCE

Gov. Frank O. Lowden urges special efforts be made by the people of Illinois this year to properly observe Thanksgiving. His annual Thanksgiving message says: "This year we celebrate the anniversary of the coming of Pilgrim Fathers to our shores. Laws, freedom, truth and God. Came with those exiles. During the first year of the New World, aside a day of thanks to God. This was the beginning of Thanksgiving day—a day that has been celebrated throughout the length and breadth of our land. For it is the day when the ideals and aspirations of the Pilgrim fathers brought with them from the old World have a powerful influence upon the institutions of our country. By these ideals, we have grown and prospered until we have taken place in the very forefront of the world."

LOWDEN ASKS FOR SPECIAL
THANKSGIVING OBSERVANCE

Illinois People to Make Effort Toward Fitting Celebration

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—Gov. Frank O. Lowden urges that special efforts be made by the people of Illinois this year to appropriately observe Thanksgiving day. His annual Thanksgiving proclamation says:

"This year we celebrate the 300th anniversary of the coming of the Pilgrim Fathers to our shores. Laws, freedom, truth and faith in God. Came with those exiles over the wave."

"During the first year of their residence in the New World they set aside a day of thanks to Almighty God. This was the beginning of Thanksgiving—a day now celebrated throughout the length and breadth of our land. For three centuries the ideals and aspirations of the Pilgrim fathers brought with them from the old World have exercised a powerful influence upon the lives of our country. Inspired by these ideals, we have grown and prospered until we have taken our place in the very forefront of the world."

great nations of the earth. Under our rule, more men and women and children live happy, useful lives today, as we believe, than under any other Government of the time. And America is only at the beginning of its great career if it remains true to the principles which we trace back to the Pilgrim Fathers of 300 years ago.

"A Government of laws, the largest freedom to the individual without injury to the rights of others, the triumph of truth and faith in God are as vitally needed today as they were when the Pilgrim Fathers trod the wintry strand."

20 Years for Killing in Robbery.

HILLSBORO, Ill., Nov. 19.—A jury which heard the case in which Louis Roper of Hillsboro was charged with killing Francis (Happy) Magee, evidently for his money, found a verdict of guilty and set the punishment at 20 years in the penitentiary. Magee, who was an eccentric man, was found with his skull crushed with a leg on an old meat block at midnight last Jan. 13. Roper was arrested two days later and blood found on his clothing was declared by experts to be human blood, though Roper said it was rabbit blood.

MRS. MOYER-WING SAYS
WOMEN WERE TRAPPED

Explains Her Part as Delegate in the "Babler Difficulty" at Chicago Convention.

Editor Post-Dispatch.

This story is not for men. The men, long ago, have forgotten the incident. It is written for the other half of Missouri—the half that does not forget. It is for the women. I am glad we are constructed that way—we women. It makes us mindful of the fundamentals. It is part of our care for the multitudinous little that make up the great whole.

With this introduction I think I may announce that I am going to relate some new features about an old trouble—the Babler difficulty.

True reasons have been given, both publicly and privately, for the action of the women delegates at Chicago. But I have never publicly described the well-laid trap that our unwary feet carried us into—neither has anyone else. Therefore this story, after all, is new.

Unlike other traps I had heard of, this one was not a gaiter or a parlor. Indeed, it was altogether uninviting. But, I argued, stern duty is not always pleasing in prospect, and surely, if this is right, as it must be, then it will come out that way. And I walked in.

I have known for months that I would write this story of it. I owe it to myself, and therefore to other women. Particularly do I owe it to the friends who have steadfastly believed in my honesty of purpose without knowing inside particulars. And I want the press put right. I have been sufficiently humiliated over the matter in various newspapers. But with this last statement that I ever expect to make on the subject—and which I am depending upon the fairness of the newspapers to publish—there will be no more excuse for exonerating news notes or editorials on my account, no matter what phase of it may come up later.

The day was June 9, 1920. The occasion was the Republican national convention in Chicago. As I have said before, the only thing I have ever regretted about that day was that somebody had not shot me at sunrise. I had gone to Chicago in the happiness I would naturally feel over having been chosen one of the first two women delegates-at-large to represent my State—all the more happy because the honor had come to me at the Kansas City State convention absolutely unlooked for. But on June 9 I began to realize that the way even of a delegate-at-large may be very hard.

"It's a shame," one man said to another. "Here are the women just getting in, and the very first pop out of the box, they are called upon to help decide a mess for which they are in no way responsible—a man's mess. It's a damned, dirty shame."

"Yes," I said, "it is."

I have heard that women, refusing to resort to profanity, are sometimes glad to hear it indulged in by someone else. I don't know whether that is true, but I know that what this man said found a response in my own state of mind.

All day long he heard this, that and the other version. Missouri headquarters was like a swarm of bees, and as stinging. The subject was discussed pro and con and with variations. We were solemnly warned by the cons and we were warned by the pros with equal earnestness. And of one thing we were assured by the latter—that Mr. Babler would resign just as soon as he had time to get his statement ready. We heard rumors of sinister, undermining influences that had started the whole trouble, but everything, we were told, could and would be made as plain as day if we were just patient a little while.

Finally a conference of delegates was called, about which many particulars have been frankly discussed. I think I shall carry the memory of that conference with me into the next world. Mrs. Swan and I—Mrs. Swan was the other woman delegate at large—went up to the meeting together. By a mutual impulse we were holding tight, each to the other's hand. Mrs. Swan said, "Mrs. Wing, are you praying?" and I replied, "I never was praying so hard in my life. In a way," I said, "you and I are representing all the women of our party in Missouri. I do hope we shall be able to do the right thing—the thing they would do if they were here in our stead."

Right here I wish to say that one of the unfairest things for people to do is to say what they would have done if they had been in the place of somebody else. Nobody knows, absolutely, what he would have done in somebody else's place. He can't know.

Well, we filed in with the others and listened to the plea of the accused. It seemed earnest and sincere. All he asked, he said, was just a little time. Upon his return to St. Louis he would make a complete statement. And he absolutely could and would make everything satisfactory to us, the delegates, and to the public. He did not say, in so many words, in this conference, that he would resign, but we had been assured so many times that that was his intention, that I thought it was one of the things he was talking about.

I felt that the delegates present were his jury—as we were—and I have no apology to make for my refusal to condemn the accused when I was assured that the evidence was not nearly all in. A jury, guilty of that, would render itself unfit for service. A Judge who would pass sentence while the accused was still on trial would be impeached, regardless of evidence, damning or otherwise, that may have preceded such action. It is condemnation without trial that leads to mob and murder.

All this ran through my mind. I thought of the women of my State—women I had known in various activities. I know that deep down in the soul of every woman there is a spirit of justice and fair play. When they do not heed it, it is because they have not given the subject due thought. But it is there. And as I thought of the women over my State I said to myself, "there is not a thinking woman in Missouri, in the face of the situation as it is here presented, who would refuse the National Committee a chance to vindicate himself." And, strong in that conviction, I voted that same evening what I believed meant just that and that only.

The next day Mrs. Swan and I wrote a joint letter to Mr. Babler, urging him to speedily carry out his promise. We told him we were being criticized and accused, and that we were depending upon his vindication of himself in order that our own action might be understood. Fearing that the letter might fall to reach him, we carried it to him and delivered it in person, and again he assured us that he would make everything absolutely satisfactory, and that we had nothing to fear.

The rest of the story is ancient history. As time went on, I realized that a trap had been set for me, and that I had walked into it, along with others—about two-thirds of our delegation—some of them as unsuspecting as I.

My defense, until now, has been merely of my position in the face of the case as it was presented on June 9, and I want to say one more time that I shall never apologize for the spirit of justice that actuated me. And I have steadfastly refused to go further than that until the campaign was over. The matter was revolving attention a plenty, and there was enough trouble in the ranks of my party without any addition from me. My part of it could wait.

I have been asked whether I shall remain in politics or whether this first experience, has disgusted me. Without replying to the latter part of the query, I wish to say that I shall retain my interest in politics and continue my activities. The very fact that such a thing could happen, makes me know that I must remain. This very bitter first experience will be a future safeguard. The very fact that I was deceived once will make me no less unsuspecting at another time. I will be stronger and abler to cope with a trying or peculiar situation at another time. And I am in politics to stay so long as I have the physical strength to work.

I have been told that to bring this up again at this time may cost me my chance of an appointment when the Missouri jobs are distributed. My only reply to that is, if it does that, then there is one thing I can surely do, I can remain jobless.

ALICE CURTIS MOYER-WING, Greenville, Wayne County, Mo.

Note—The "Babler difficulty," to which Mrs. Moyer-Wing referred, grew out of the handling of Lowden campaign money in Missouri by J. L. Babler, Republican National Committee member. After the disclosures of his participation in the distribution of the money, but before there developed organized opposition to him because of it, Babler obtained his re-election as National Committee member by the Missouri delegation to the Chicago convention. When the delegation reached Chicago there was formed a movement to reconsider the election of Babler.

At a special meeting of the delegation called after a day of political manipulation, the motion to reconsider was made and failed to carry. Mrs. Moyer-Wing voted against it, thus voting with Babler. That is the trap she said in her explanation above she was led into.

GETS $128 IN GOODS BY FRAUD

Man Represents Himself as Express Driver and Obtains Shipments. David Zucker manager for the United Cap Co., 617 North Eighth street, told policemen yesterday how a man representing himself as a driver for the American Express Co. had obtained two shipments of cloth valued at $78.75 and $50 earlier in the day.

The regular sign of the express company, he said, had been hung outside to attract a passing driver. During the morning a man had walked in and called out, "Express." The packages, destined for New York, were given him and he signed receipts. Later the company's driver came along and the fraud was discovered.

COMMENT IN GERMAN PRESS ON LEAGUE

One Newspaper Says Meeting Certifies to High Idealism in the World.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—"The spirit of Wilson is dead in America, but it still floats over the water of Lake Geneva," we have nothing to expect from Wilson's League of Nations," says the first meeting of the league. Here is the comment of the Morning Post: "The ideal toward which the League of Nations is striving may be beyond actual reach, but the thought which weak humans are willing to vitalize in Geneva is worthy of the best effort that human strength can make. It may be Utopian; humanity may be far from ready for it, but the effort to achieve high idealism in the world, when such work can be undertaken after such a war."

These contrasting comments are typical of divided German public opinion regarding the first session of the league. In general, the reactionary element in Germany pooh-poohs on principle the proceedings at Geneva; the Social Democrats, however, take mild academic interest in league doings, being in a waiting attitude, with promise of warm-up to the league should America enter it, and Germany be not kept out of it too long.

With the exception of professed pacifists and internationalists, no Germans appear enthusiastic over the league or seem to expect much from it, as it is composed today. League stock would mount high, however, if America were to join.

This situation is reflected in dispatches from the German correspondents in Geneva, who emphasize the absence of American representatives and who find, as a result, many obstacles to substantial progress with the league's program.

"America's absence weighs visibly on the spirit of Geneva," the correspondent of the Tagliche Rundschau writes.

The correspondent of the Tagliche Rundschau writes: "Will America join the present league, or will it force the members to follow the American court of arbitration idea, which would render ineffective and senseless these proceedings. That is the great question which hovers over this conference."

The same correspondent foresees a clash of authority between the council of the league and the assembly in respect to matters of competency. There will be so many occasions for differences that conflict is inevitable.

He cites as a single example of the tendency toward conflict, the challenge by Germany of the competency of the League Council to decide the issues regarding Eupen and Malmedy. The world, he says, has been led to expect real results in the movement toward disarmament, while the impression left by the first session of the league is that its members are entering upon very complicated negotiations.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Joseph W. Folk, former Governor of Missouri and now a practicing attorney here, has just been appointed counsel for Peru in the long-standing dispute between that country and Chile over the provinces of Tacna and Arica.

The prominence gained by Folk in directing the negotiations of the Zaguil Commission, which is seeking independence for Egypt, is understood to have prompted the Peruvian Government in its choice.

Tacna and Arica, called the "Alasce-Lorraine of the Pacific," were taken from Peru in war and are now under Chilean sovereignty. Under the treaty of Ancon in 1888, a plebiscite was to have been held to determine the future ownership. Chile, however, postponed the plebiscite from time to time, claiming that the rival country has filled up the provinces with Peruvians in order to swing the election in its favor. The vote has never been taken.

Withdrawn Case From League.

It had been expected that Peru's effort to regain the lost provinces would come before the council of the League of Nations, but Peru recently withdrew the question from the league consideration because of the nonattendance of the United States. In so doing it is said to have reserved the right to bring the matter forward should the United States enter the league.

The present plan is to have the controversy arbitrated by representatives of the United States and some of the disinterested South American countries. Folk is now in communication with the State Department with a view to getting the United States to take the initiative in inviting the appointment of arbitrators. Such action would make the United States the chief custodian of the peace of American continent.

If an arbitration board is set up, Folk will appear before it on behalf of his client. The sessions probably would be at The Hague.

Giving his connection with the Egyptian independence movement as his reason, Gov. Folk this week declined to serve on the committee which is now taking testimony here on the Irish question. The chairmanship of this committee had been tendered to him by the organization of 100 members chosen under the auspices of the New York Nation, a weekly Liberal organ, edited by Oswald Garrison Villard, to investigate reports of British atrocities in Ireland.

Expects Egyptian Settlement.

Folk said today that he expected that Parliament would approve the Egyptian settlement offered by the Zaguil Commission in conference with the Milner Commission, an official body appointed by Great Britain to study the Egyptian question. This settlement, in the making of which Folk participated by cable, would place Egypt in about the same relation to Great Britain as Cuba to the United States.

Folk said he could not properly sit on the Irish Commission while representing Egypt in its case against the British Government.

A. F. L. COUNCIL DECLARES WORLD NEEDS PRODUCTION

Autocratic Management in Some Industries Said to Be Holding Down Output.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Economic needs of the country at large occupied the attention yesterday of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, which continued its discussion of future policy.

Labor is fully conscious that the world needs production, members of the council said. Labor leaders were declared to realize also that standards of life can improve only as production and consumption increase. The attitude of those guiding labor's organizations is said to be that this end cannot be reached without better methods in industry where, members of the council asserted there still remains inefficiency in plant management as well as unprincipled scheming by certain groups of financiers. It is against the alleged unfairness of the employers in these respects that labor is aiming its efforts for better co-operation, according to federation officials.

Discussion was said to have brought out the statement that autocratic management in some industries was holding down production. Reference was understood to have been made in this connection to the closing entirely or to part time operation of plants in the textile industry. Leaders refuse to accept the statement of the employers that they were forced to cut down output because of decreased demand.

Leaving Troy at 8:45 o'clock this morning, they arrived at the Forest Park aerial mail station at 10:30. They will spend a week here with Wassall's mother, Mrs. K. E. BAKER CONSIDERS REQUEST FOR BODY OF U. S. SOLDIER

Tells Victory Hall Concession Might Establish Precedent for Other Associations.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Secretary Baker took under advisement today the request of a committee representing the Victory Hall Association of New York, that the War Department permitting the removal from France of the body of an unidentified American soldier for burial in a memorial crypt in Victory Hall.

Baker promised to give the committee a reply within three weeks, and in saying that he would take the matter under advisement pointed out to the committee the War Department's announced policy to place in especially prepared fields of honor, the granting of their request might establish a precedent which would lead to other memorial associations making a similar request and to resultant confusion.

"DAD'S DAY" AT ILLINOIS U.

Fathers of Students to Be Entertained Tomorrow.

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 19.—Old age will step side by side with youth on the University of Illinois campus tomorrow. Following a custom started several years ago by individual fraternity houses there has been set aside this year one day when the fathers of all university students will be invited to the campus. This day is Saturday.

"Dad's day" is the way the date has been designated and tags are ready and waiting for the fathers. These tags will proclaim to the youth of the campus, "Hello, boys, I'm a visiting dad." And youth will come right back at old age with "Hello, dad, I'm glad you're here." Smokers, "mixers," tours of the campus and buildings, and the football game with Ohio State, the championship game for the Western Conference title, constitute a few of the many amusements and pastimes offered the dads. President David Kinley will be among the many prominent speakers scheduled to talk at the smokers. More than 3000 dads are expected. This is the first attempt ever made to have a general gathering of students' fathers and it will be an annual affair hereafter.

They next flew to Des Moines, a distance of 220 miles, and left there at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, planning to arrive in St. Louis for dinner.

Darkness overtook them at Troy, Mo., about 60 miles from here, and they were forced to spend the night there. Leaving Troy at 8:45 o'clock this morning, they arrived at the Forest Park aerial mail station at 10:30. They will spend a week here with Wassall's mother, Mrs. K. E. Wassall, and will then continue south, where they expect to carry passengers during the winter.

BAKER CONSIDERS REQUEST FOR BODY OF U. S. SOLDIER

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Secretary Baker took under advisement today the request of a committee representing the Victory Hall Association of New York, that the War Department permitting the removal from France of the body of an unidentified American soldier for burial in a memorial crypt in Victory Hall.

Baker promised to give the committee a reply within three weeks, and in saying that he would take the matter under advisement pointed out to the committee the War Department's announced policy to place in especially prepared fields of honor, the granting of their request might establish a precedent which would lead to other memorial associations making a similar request and to resultant confusion.

"DAD'S DAY" AT ILLINOIS U.

Fathers of Students to Be Entertained Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 19.—Old age will step side by side with youth on the University of Illinois campus tomorrow. Following a custom started several years ago by individual fraternity houses there has been set aside this year one day when the fathers of all university students will be invited to the campus. This day is Saturday.

"Dad's day" is the way the date has been designated and tags are ready and waiting for the fathers. These tags will proclaim to the youth of the campus, "Hello, boys, I'm a visiting dad." And youth will come right back at old age with "Hello, dad, I'm glad you're here." Smokers, "mixers," tours of the campus and buildings, and the football game with Ohio State, the championship game for the Western Conference title, constitute a few of the many amusements and pastimes offered the dads. President David Kinley will be among the many prominent speakers scheduled to talk at the smokers. More than 3000 dads are expected. This is the first attempt ever made to have a general gathering of students' fathers and it will be an annual affair hereafter.

PERU IN TACNA AND ARICA CASE

Will Try to Have U. S. Take Lead in Arbitrating Celebrated Dispute Over Lost Provinces.

SUBJECT TAKEN OUT OF LEAGUE'S HANDS

Peru, However, Has Reserved Right to Resubmit It in Case U. S. Becomes a Member.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Joseph W. Folk, former Governor of Missouri and now a practicing attorney here, has just been appointed counsel for Peru in the long-standing dispute between that country and Chile over the provinces of Tacna and Arica.

The prominence gained by Folk in directing the negotiations of the Zaguil Commission, which is seeking independence for Egypt, is understood to have prompted the Peruvian Government in its choice.

Tacna and Arica, called the "Alasce-Lorraine of the Pacific," were taken from Peru in war and are now under Chilean sovereignty. Under the treaty of Ancon in 1888, a plebiscite was to have been held to determine the future ownership. Chile, however, postponed the plebiscite from time to time, claiming that the rival country has filled up the provinces with Peruvians in order to swing the election in its favor. The vote has never been taken.

Withdrawn Case From League.

It had been expected that Peru's effort to regain the lost provinces would come before the council of the League of Nations, but Peru recently withdrew the question from the league consideration because of the nonattendance of the United States. In so doing it is said to have reserved the right to bring the matter forward should the United States enter the league.

The present plan is to have the controversy arbitrated by representatives of the United States and some of the disinterested South American countries. Folk is now in communication with the State Department with a view to getting the United States to take the initiative in inviting the appointment of arbitrators. Such action would make the United States the chief custodian of the peace of American continent.

If an arbitration board is set up, Folk will appear before it on behalf of his client. The sessions probably would be at The Hague.

Giving his connection with the Egyptian independence movement as his reason, Gov. Folk this week declined to serve on the committee which is now taking testimony here on the Irish question. The chairmanship of this committee had been tendered to him by the organization of 100 members chosen under the auspices of the New York Nation, a weekly Liberal organ, edited by Oswald Garrison Villard, to investigate reports of British atrocities in Ireland.

Expects Egyptian Settlement.

Folk said today that he expected that Parliament would approve the Egyptian settlement offered by the Zaguil Commission in conference with the Milner Commission, an official body appointed by Great Britain to study the Egyptian question. This settlement, in the making of which Folk participated by cable, would place Egypt in about the same relation to Great Britain as Cuba to the United States.

Folk said he could not properly sit on the Irish Commission while representing Egypt in its case against the British Government.

A. F. L. COUNCIL DECLARES WORLD NEEDS PRODUCTION

Autocratic Management in Some Industries Said to Be Holding Down Output.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Economic needs of the country at large occupied the attention yesterday of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, which continued its discussion of future policy.

Labor is fully conscious that the world needs production, members of the council said. Labor leaders were declared to realize also that standards of life can improve only as production and consumption increase. The attitude of those guiding labor's organizations is said to be that this end cannot be reached without better methods in industry where, members of the council asserted there still remains inefficiency in plant management as well as unprincipled scheming by certain groups of financiers. It is against the alleged unfairness of the employers in these respects that labor is aiming its efforts for better co-operation, according to federation officials.

Discussion was said to have brought out the statement that autocratic management in some industries was holding down production. Reference was understood to have been made in this connection to the closing entirely or to part time operation of plants in the textile industry. Leaders refuse to accept the statement of the employers that they were forced to cut down output because of decreased demand.

AMERICAN WOMAN TAKEN FOR RIDE IN AIR BY SADI LECOINTE

Bennett Cup Winner Takes Passenger on Visit to Landru Villa at Gambala.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Sadi Lecoite, the winner of the Gordon Bennett Cup race for aviators, was just ready to go up from the Rue Aviation field the other day when an American woman stepped up and asked:

"Won't you take me up?"

"Surely," replied Sadi; "where do you want to go?"

"To Gambala; I do wish to see that Landru villa."

Sadi obliged, landing within 100 feet of the villa made famous by the disappearance of 11 women to whom Landru had promised marriage. When she left she carried away a souvenir in the shape of a piece of rabbit bone found in the yard.

"Nothing is sacred for these Americans," Landru said when he heard of the occurrence.

SAYS HAITIAN WAS GIVEN ELECTRIC SHOCK

Witness Testifies Marine Killed Native With Machine Gun at 10 Paces.

By the Associated Press.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Nov. 19.—Additional evidence charging Freeman Lang, formerly a Corporal in the Marine Corps, with murdering Haitian prisoners, was presented yesterday before the Naval Court of Inquiry investigating the activities of the American Marines in Haiti.

The evidence was presented by Meratus Toussaint, a native gendarme. He testified that Lang called a prisoner from the Hinche jail in 1918, questioned him, and killed him with a machine gun at 10 paces, while the prisoner was walking away. The witness denied that the victim was trying to escape when he was killed.

Toussaint also testified he saw Lang apply the electric current running from a wireless apparatus to a prisoner to make the man talk. Asked in cross-examination if the application proved fatal, the witness replied:

"I cannot say, but he died in prison two days later."

Adolph Bourgot, a native Gendarme Corporal, who, on Wednesday, accused Lang of murdering three Haitian prisoners at Hinche, stuck to his story during a severe cross-examination yesterday, conducted by Clem Raut of New Orleans, a naval dentist. He described the manner in which the natives were brought out by a Sergeant on Lang's order and shot in quick succession.

"I saw Lang take a revolver from his holster and fire while the men stood before the door," Bourgot declared. "I saw the men fall with my own eyes."

He denied he had been imprisoned in connection with communicating with bandits.

GEN. FAYOLLE DECLARES AMERICA IS A WONDERLAND

French Commander Takes Hat Off to American Chiefs, He Says.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Gen. Fayolle said upon his return recently from his three weeks' stay in the United States, "I have just discovered America and America has conquered me. It is a wonderland."

"It has been a hard fight, those three weeks in America," the General went on, with the usual humor of a twinkle in his eye. "I come back on the verge of collapse with grim dyspepsia holding me in its grip. Without taking back anything that I have said about American Expeditionary Force cooks being rank amateurs, I must take off my hat to American chiefs. There were many banquets, luncheons. I survived them all."

To the suggestion that most of the chiefs at the leading hotels were French, Gen. Fayolle replied: "They may be, but they certainly have undergone an evolution, for they had their dishes of their own."

"Did you miss your wine with your meals?" he was asked.

"I never missed my wine," Fayolle replied.

"Don't ask me to talk local American politics," Gen. Fayolle went on when requested to explain.

"I have had a grandiose reception that I shall never forget, although I am certain that it was not for me personally, but because I represented Marshal Foch and the French army."

SPOTLIGHTS FOR TRAFFIC MEN

Philadelphia Adopts Innovation to Prevent Accidents at Night.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Spotlights for traffic policemen is the latest innovation by the Department of Public Safety for the prevention of accidents at night, partly due to a confusion of traffic signals. The plan was first put into effect Wednesday night with searchlights shining from the city hall on the traffic officers in the central section and it will be extended to other districts, thus eliminating the light signals and making possible the use of the "arm" signals in use during the day which are more discernible to the eye.

These searchlights will shine from large buildings where the traffic police are too far from the city hall and the officer will stand out as plainly as in daylight.

PREACHER-DRY AGENT'S TRIAL

Prosecution for Minister Who Killed Man in Liquor Raid.

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—Through a decision announced by Attorney-General Raney, the Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, minister and license inspector, who killed Beverly Trumble during a raid on Trumble's hotel at Sandwich, will have to stand trial for the shooting, despite the fact that a coroner's jury decided the minister had acted in self-defense.

After a conference with Crown Attorney Rodd of Windsor, Raney said Spracklin would probably be admitted to bail after a preliminary examination pending the opening of the Sandwich court, when he will be tried on a charge of "killing and slaying" Trumble.

PAINTER OVERCOME BY GAS

Frank Baron, 22 years old, of 2306 South Ninth street, a painter, was found unconscious in his room at 3 p. m. yesterday. A gas jet in the room was open. He was taken to the city hospital, where doctors said his condition was critical. Police reported they believed the jet had been left open accidentally.

In Baron's room the police found $79.16, a $500 Liberty Bond and a bank book showing deposits of $1147.75.

Your Refrigerator

Well iced is the only proper place to store perishables until consumed. It is convenient and a protection to food and health.

An outside window box or window sill is not safe, as dust, soot and germs are liable to settle on the food through loose covers. Besides, it is subject to the sudden changes in outside temperatures.

Wintry blasts striking the overwarm face of the housewife as she reaches for food accounts for many coughs and colds. The discomfort and danger caused by such unnecessary exposure, more over the cost of drugs and physician's calls, are often greater than the cost of a whole year's ice supply.

ENGLISH JOURNALIST DECLARES AMERICANS NOT HARD WORKERS

Found Them Polite and Ready Always to Take Trouble for Others.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—H. W. Nevins, a well-known journalist, lecturing on "America" at the National Liberal Club here, said his visit to the United States had upset nearly all his preconceived notions about Americans.

He said he found Americans most polite, very kind and hospitable and only too ready to take trouble for others. He did not find them particularly business-like and hard-working. One thing that struck him as terrible was the individual subservience to the state and the tendency of the police to dominate everything and he gave instances of what he regarded as savage sentences of 10 years' imprisonment on a "perfectly innocent and harmless gentleman," and of 15 years upon a girl of 20, who had distributed a pamphlet urging American soldiers not to fight against Russia.

There was no real political labor party in America, which was 40 years behind England in that matter. Concerning anti-English feeling in America, he said he was constantly confronted by the shame of Britain's treatment of Ireland and he confessed that when he found the House of Commons jeering at dying men, and heaping insults on a country struggling for political freedom, it was almost like going home and seeing his own mother drunk on the floor.

SIX PER CENT Investments With Increased Safety

One of the attractive features of the First Mortgage Real Estate Notes offered by the Mercantile Trust Company is the Serial phase. It means that semi-annually or annually a specified number of notes are paid, reducing the mortgage without releasing any of the security. The safety of the later maturing notes is thus automatically increased. At the present time we are in a position to offer to investors notes of several issues where earlier maturing notes have already been paid and canceled. These notes we are offering present the opportunity of placing $500, or even multiples thereof, for the number of years you may select. At the end of that time your money is returned intact, and in the meanwhile you are receiving $15 every six months on each $500 invested.

When we made these loans the security, in our opinion, was quite ample for the maximum amounts of the mortgages. Now that the mortgages have been reduced, without diminishing the amount of the original security, it is apparent that the remaining notes are more attractive.

Brief description of these investments, with the maturities available, is as follows:

tire City.

Eugene J. Debs, Socialist candidate for President, received 10,107 votes in St. Louis in the election Nov. 2. This was the vote for the highest elector on the Socialist ticket, shown in the official returns on the presidential vote, as compiled by the Election Board.

In 1912, when Debs was a candidate for President, he got 9159 votes in St. Louis. The total vote for President here in 1912 was 140,327, or not quite one-half the vote in this year's election when women voted for the first time. In 1916, when Allen Benson was the Socialist candidate, the vote of that party in St. Louis was less than 2700, but this was far below the normal strength, as local Socialist candidates, in previous elections, had polled as high as 7880 votes.

The St. Louis vote for Debs this year was smaller than that for the Socialist candidate for the Senate, Elias F. Hodges. He got 10,275.

The Presidential Count.
The official count shows the following vote for presidential candidates here, the vote in each instance being that of the highest elector on the ticket:

Harding, R.	163,444
Cox, D.	106,429
Debs, Socialist	10,107
W. Cox, Soc. Labor	815
Christensen, F. W.	1,709
Watkins, Prohibition	745

Total

Harding's plurality is larger than that of any of the local Republican candidates except Thomas S. Watts for Alderman of the Seventeenth Ward. Watts had a plurality of 58,515, the vote for Aldermen being cast by the entire city. Arthur M. Hyde's plurality for Governor here was 51,110, but State Auditor Hackmann had a plurality of 59,959 here, which was the longest lead attained by any Republican candidate in St. Louis.

Few Electors Scratched.
There was comparatively little scratching of individual presidential electors. The highest of the Republican electors, O. D. Bradley of the Ninth District, got 163,444 votes, and the vote of the lowest, James Ellis of Sedalia, Seventh District, a negro, was only 333 less, being 163,111. On the Democratic ticket there was a variance of 420 between the high man, B. F. Morgan of the Seventh District, with 106,429, and the lowest, Clyde Williams, Thirteenth District, with 106,009.

APPEARANCE OF RUSSIAN IN CHICAGO OPERA OPPOSED

Georges Baklanoff, on Parole From Ellis Island, Scheduled to Open Season in "La Tosca."

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—A protest against the appearance of Georges Baklanoff, Russian star of the Chicago Opera Company, who was released from Ellis Island this week on a three-month parole, after being held for deportation, was sent to the directors of the Chicago Opera Company today by Dr. Herbert J. Willett, president of the Chicago Church Federation and a professor of the University of Chicago.

Baklanoff was arrested during the opera season last year when Mlle. Vera Amazar, a Russian member of the company, complained to Federal authorities that he had brought her to this country under promise of marriage and she later discovered that he had a wife and children in Europe. He was permitted to leave the country while deportation proceedings were pending.

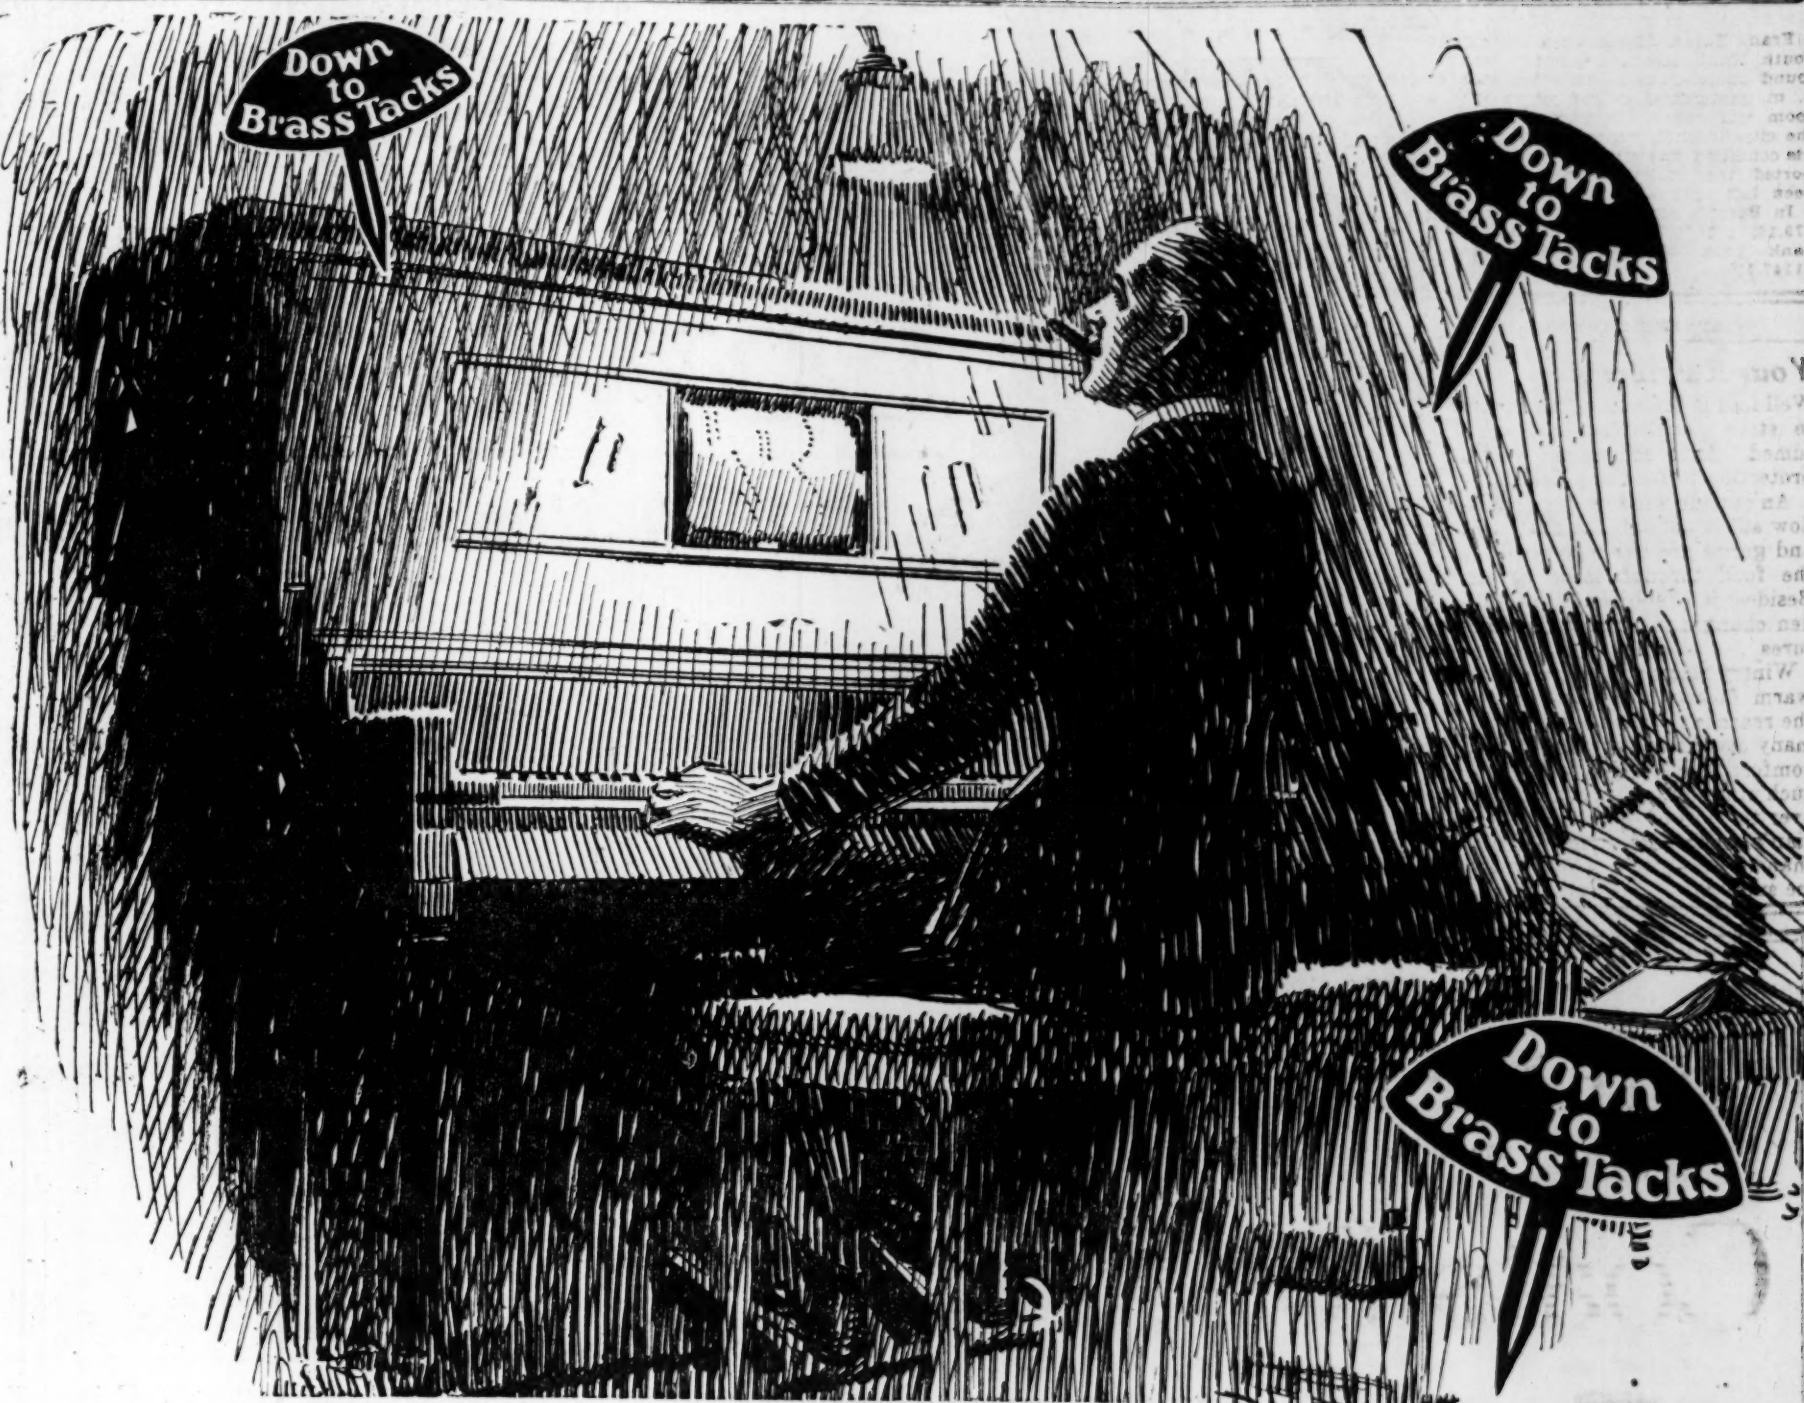

He is scheduled to open his season tomorrow in "La Tosca," with Rosa Ralusa and Joseph Hislop taking the other principal parts.

Dr. Willett's letter said: "Quite apart from any artistic value grand opera possesses, there are certain moral factors which can hardly be discovered from the personality of the artists who appear."

"When those personalities become notorious even their artistic value is notably impaired, and there is a certain responsibility attaching to the organization which employs them from which public sentiment will hardly absolve them."

"The public has the right not only to art, but as well to the moral values of personality in the artists it is asked to patronize. It is not puritanical sentiment that dictates this generally accepted standard of public approval."

Look at Our Window—Guess Which Is the Lowest-Priced Gulbransen

Easy to Play

You've heard of the Gulbransen. Everybody knows the little Baby at the Pedals. But perhaps you don't know the Baby is something more than a trade mark. It is the picture of an incident that has happened in thousands of homes—a suggestion of the outstanding quality of the Gulbransen—"Easy to Play."

The moment your feet touch the pedals of this amazing instrument you realize you are playing a different sort of player-piano from any you ever played before. It just gets into sympathy with you, helps you, inspires you to play like a true musician. You do not have to pump hard or pedal fast. Gulbransen exquisite "pedal touch" is so delightfully restful, yet you can "just make this piano talk," it is so responsive.

With the Martin Method Instruction Rolls developed exclusively for Gulbransen owners you can readily learn to command the entire musical resources of the piano. Mr. Martin has played before musical authorities who invariably pronounce his playing indistinguishable from that of an accomplished hand performer. The Martin Method teaches you everything Mr. Martin knows about player-piano musicianship. Free with every Gulbransen.

"Good Times with Your Gulbransen" is the title of a book that we give to every Gulbransen owner to help in home entertaining and music study. Tells every kind of music available, what is best and most interesting, shows how to understand and appreciate music.

Nationally Priced

Think a minute. You realize that ability to give best value depends on big volume and small profits. The Gulbransen is the product of the greatest player-piano factory in the world—making nothing but Player-Pianos, under only one name, and with a capacity of 50,000 instruments annually. Quality standardization has been kept up as in no other factory. And to secure volume, "Brass Tacks" price standardization is a fixed policy. Gulbransen prices must be on a "Brass Tacks" basis because they compete with all sorts of player-pianos at all sorts of prices all over the U. S. This is the final proof that we give you best value.

Three models, all playable by hand and by roll, sold at the same prices to everybody everywhere in the U. S., freight and war tax paid.

YOU'LL get a clear idea of what we mean by "Brass Tacks" on player-piano prices from one good look at our window. Side by side stand two Gulbransens—the "millionaires'" White House Model at $750—and the Lowest-Priced Gulbransen at $595.

Which looks best to you? Which would you be prouder of in your home? Come in and play them. Ask yourself which plays easier, which sounds sweeter—you'll find it difficult to guess which instrument is cheaper. One thing sure—

You'd Never Guess It Costs Only $595

And we want to tell you it would have to cost a good deal more than $595 if it weren't made in the Gulbransen factory. Part after part—the important parts that give quality to a Player-Piano—are exactly the same in this $595 instrument as in the "millionaires'" model Gulbransen at $750.

In the great Gulbransen factory it is actually cheaper to make this Lowest-Priced instrument largely of highest quality than it would be to build it specially to be cheap. We know of no other instrument produced in such favorable manufacturing conditions. We are sure that the Lowest-Priced Gulbransen is the only real "Brass Tacks" Player-Piano proposition in America today.

THIS WEEK we are showing a special selection of specially handsome cases of the Lowest-Priced Gulbransen—genuine Mahogany, Burl Walnut, three kinds of Oak, satin and mirror-polish finishes—chosen for this "Brass Tacks" Sale.

TODAY AND TOMORROW we are demonstrating the famous Martin Method instruction rolls, prepared for the Gulbransen Player by John Martin, the concert player-pianist. These rolls show how your playing of the Gulbransen can be made to sound like expert hand-playing—and it's easy! Come and hear.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Chairman Hays' Buncombe.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

When Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, returned a few days ago to his home in Sullivan, Ind., it is reported that, upon his being asked for a public expression of the recent election, he quoted Browning, saying: "God's in his heaven—all's right with the world."

The quotation from Browning used by Mr. Hays to express his own view is reminiscent of the telegram sent by the lamented Mark Hanna (whose spirit abides in Mr. Hays) to President McKinley in January, 1898, after Mr. Hanna's selection for Senator from Ohio. "God reigns, and the Republican party still lives," wired Mr. Hanna. The publication of the telegram drew from the late Judge de Armond, member of Congress, one of those witty and caustic speeches for which he was quite famous. From the speech delivered in the House on the said occasion the following is excerpted: "From Mr. Hanna's point of view, there is an extended lease of life to the Republican party. Does the Republican party still live, or does it merely languish? Is the true meaning that it is not yet entirely dead? What is it living for? The Republican party was put in power as the result of the last general election upon a platform every principle of which it has either disavowed and repudiated or is trying to dodge and evade. What is the necessity for its living? Now, why might not the party as well quietly give up the ghost, and allow Mr. Hanna, as the embodiment, the soul, as the essence of the Republican party, to live in that body into which he has recently crawled?"

No doubt Mr. Hays meant by his quotation from Browning that the recent Republican victory is evidence that God is in heaven, and that all is well with the world. There is, of course, no room for discussion as to the first branch of the proposition, itself, no matter by whom uttered, but as to the concluding part most people are inclined to doubt. The victory of the Republican party in no way helps to dispel that doubt. The world outside the United States is not rejoicing over Mr. Harding's election. The hope that the United States would join the League of Nations has been diminished or deferred, and "hope deferred maketh the heart sick." At home, beyond the confines of Marion, who heard bells ringing, bands playing or people singing as a result of the election? Was there general acclaim all over the land? Does anyone hope for better times or conditions in consequence of the Republican victory? Has the frightful wave of crime settled down to "normalcy" in all right with the world?

But the wonder is how Mr. Hays happened to recall the quotation after the election and not before. Did Mr. Hays at any time before the election remind us that God was in heaven, and that all was well? Did he not rather insist that there was no power, except that of embittered dollars, that could be trusted to put the Republican party over? Whence those doleful and insistent cries of "Boys, get the money?"

It might be suggested that the Browning quotation is based on a Bible passage beginning, "For God is in heaven," but ending with the ominous "and thou upon earth." Mr. Hays would do well to ponder the end as well as the beginning. The Book of Books also states: "And satan, which deceiveth the whole world, was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him." This may account for some of Mr. Hays' inspired utterances, as also the unclean and unwholesome cartoons appearing in certain publications, during the campaign. May it not, indeed, account for the Republican landslide? DEMOS.

Wilson's Fame Secure.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 The letter in Sunday's issue of your very fair paper signed "E. B. Hill," paying worthy tribute to our great President, was gratifying. I am sure glad there are a few left of his own set who are willing to view his greatness without green goggles.

"If to be a natural man is a fault, then he is really faulty; if not, he is perfect. Let the rancor continue, it can't reach him. The truth always shines brighter after the mists of obprobrium have rolled away." A WOMAN.

Our Disabled Heroes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 While we were watching the parade of our world war veterans on the date of our second annual celebration of the signing of the armistice, and our whole being was enthused with the thoughts that these were the victors and the makers of democracy, did any of us suffer a pang of regret that only on this occasion did we consider the hero lying or confined in our local hospitals, who has been spending these two prosperous years (for most of us) anything his comrades who laid down his life on the battlefield?

Did any of us think, at any other time, how much easier it would be for this class of hero to play the cards that Fate has dealt him, if a kindly smile and words of good cheer were received by him in his daily life instead of only on the two days in two years? I wonder.

CURIOUS.

THE OPEN SHOP FIGHT.

The fight for the open shop which is spreading through the country and is waged with violence in some quarters, complicates and intensifies the business troubles incident to readjustment of prices and wages. It causes lockouts and strikes and thus decreases production and reduces demand at the same time. It will be met by vigorous opposition on the part of the unions and the result, if persisted in, will be industrial war, with all the disastrous effects that follow war. It will postpone readjustment, because its ultimate consequences will be a shortage of supply when demand becomes normal.

The difficulty in settling the controversy is that neither side is honest in defining its aims. In fighting for the open shop many employers are fighting against organized labor. They decline to recognize the right of collective bargaining. For example, in the present war here between the restaurant and hotel men and their union employees, the former not only demand an open shop, but decline to recognize or deal with accredited representatives of unions. They insist that they will deal only with employees. On the other hand, the union employees, ostensibly fighting for union recognition and collective bargaining through representatives, actually demand the closed shop and the enforcement of all union demands as to not only wages, hours and employment, but shop management.

The principle of the open shop is sound. Employers have a clear right to employ whom they wish to employ, union or nonunion. They have a right to adopt their own methods of employment, under fair conditions for all employees. But they are not right in refusing to permit their employees to join and work with unions and in declining to deal with union representatives. The right of association and collective dealing which they themselves enjoy should be accorded their employees.

Employees have a right to join and work with unions and to collective bargaining through their unions, but they have no right to insist upon a closed shop. They have no right to demand that none but union members shall be employed and that they or their representatives shall control employment, dismissal and the conduct of the shop. That is clear tyranny, enforceable only through power which may easily become intolerable. As a principle it is not defensible.

The unions should be free in the open shop to organize the employees, if the latter want to be organized. This principle of freedom for employer and employee gives both all the scope they have a right to demand.

Exactions and tyrannies which grow out of the fight against the unions, under the slogan of the open shop, and the fight for the closed shop under the slogan of labor's right to organize are unavoidable and inevitable concomitants of war. The whole trouble lies in the fact that both sides of the capital-labor controversy are trying to accomplish their ends by the strong arm, by the exercise of force, by conflict instead of by the exercise of reason and by fair dealing. Both sides are guilty of the misuse of power to gain ends that are not justified in justice and reason.

The greater power has been heretofore in the hands of industrial and commercial management, because it controls money and machinery. But management is legally responsible, whereas, organized labor is legally irresponsible. It cannot be held to agreements and contracts under law.

What the public, which is the chief sufferer from industrial war, wants is the cessation of warfare. It wants reason substituted for arbitrary action and arbitration for force. Industry cannot stand warfare and friction, because there can be no real co-operation under such conditions. Production is not promoted by the strong arm and does not thrive on discontent.

Labor is essential to the life of society. It is not a commodity. It is composed of men and women whose welfare is essential to the stability, prosperity and progress of the nation. Capital and management are not less necessary. All of these factors must be satisfied in the adjustment of relations and in the distribution of the profits of business, or they refuse to function, or function inefficiently. The problem is to harmonize their interests and obtain good will and co-operation. The problem cannot be solved by force and unfair advantage. It can be solved by reason and concession and co-operation under the reign of law. Any victory gained by superior power or unfairness is a mockery. It is a prelude to more war and disaster.

We advise the open-shop champions who are pressing this fight to listen to reason—to consider the consequences of the appeal to force and not to be influenced by recent excesses of labor organizations. One wrong does not justify another.

A STORY OF SUGAR.

Counsel for 250 wholesale grocers, operating in the Eastern states, have petitioned the Department of Justice to prosecute certain sugar refinery companies which they charge with violating war-time price control legislation. They say the refiners compelled them to sign contracts to buy sugar for fall delivery at 22-1/2 cents a pound, which has resulted in the consuming public's paying exorbitant prices for sugar for the past six months.

This solicitude on the part of the wholesale grocers for the consuming public is commendable. It is also belated. Some six months ago, to be exact, May 10, the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association convened in St. Louis. During the convention, which lasted four days, a good deal was said on the subject of sugar. At that time the grocers were particularly aggrieved at the Government's efforts to control prices. They wanted the Government to take its hands off of business. J. H. McLaurin of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the association, when re-elected to that office, made a speech in which he said:

"The demand that jobbers sell sugar at a profit of one cent a pound over the refiners' quotation is unjust in view of the fact that refiners are quoting sugar at from 14 to 18 cents a pound and the jobbers who have cornered the supply are selling it at from 27 to 28 cents a pound. Sugar is not reaching the consumers through the proper channels of distribution. It does not get to the jobbers from the refiners, but the jobbers must get it through the refiners, but the bill from hardware stores, candy manufacturers and others in foreign lines of trade."

That was the situation last May, six months ago, at the time when the refiners were compelling the wholesalers to sign the objectionable contracts, for relief from which the latter are now appealing to the Government. But no criticism of the refiners was spoken in the convention held here. Apparently it never occurred to the wholesale grocers to inquire how those "brokers" had cornered the sugar supply. If the wholesale grocers suspected collusion between the refiners and the so-called "brokers," they refrained from divulging that suspicion. They were so busy denouncing the Government, whose assistance they now ask, that they omitted censuring an extraordinary development in the sugar trade, which, seemingly, could not have been compassed without the connivance of the refiners.

But that was last May. The "orgy of extravagance" was then at its height. Prices were daily making new altitudes, with sugar setting the pace. For a certainty the public paid extortionate prices for sugar and the profits of that extortion were shared in by the refiners, the brokers and the wholesale grocers.

PAROLE FOR RAY H. CUMMINS?

A series of robberies some months ago, as disquieting, perhaps, as numerous other series perpetrated since, were cleared up in the discovery that the thieves had the protection and assistance of a member of the police force, Ray H. Cummins.

Just how valuable assistance from such a source might be in suggesting opportune times and places for crimes and in diverting suspicion from the criminals can be easily appreciated. Not only as a sharer in the proceeds of thefts, but as secretary of the Police Relief Association and a member of the Jefferson City lobby on the police salary grab bill, Cummins has a record of reproach and disgrace. Now it is proposed to parole him.

As a guard of the public safety, he betrayed the city to the enemy. He even betrayed disabled comrades of the force, for whose aid the relief fund is designed, and the dependents of other comrades more faithful than himself, who lost their lives in the discharge of duty.

If he is deserving of a parole, what other criminal of black record is undeserving? If he is to be released after serving only 14 months of a 10-year sentence, by what means is protection to be afforded against the new class of desperate criminals, imitators and pupils perhaps of his former accomplices, who are operating on an increasing scale giving cause for alarm?

The processes of justice would be discredited by such a parole.

The incoming Republican administration. It is semi-officially announced, will operate on the theory that to the victors belong the postoffices.

RECONSTRUCTING THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

The Democratic Representatives in Congress have concluded that they must undertake the work of reorganizing the Democratic party. They reached this conclusion, according to Washington news, at an informal conference held in the office of Claude Kitchin, who, it appears, is to be the minority leader of the next House.

As to reorganization, no plans have been formulated in detail, but certain respectable principles are to be re-stated, among them a declaration for the "lowest possible taxation, evenly distributed." That a proposal for the "lowest possible taxation" would be received enthusiastically admits of no question, but how can Mr. Kitchin appear as the protagonist of such a doctrine? In the actual business of framing revenue legislation Mr. Kitchin resolutely insisted upon the highest possible taxation, and, repeatedly, took a lot of satisfaction out of the fact that such taxes would mostly be paid north of Mason and Dixon's line.

It is true the Republicans have failed in two years of power to amend the Kitchin program of impoverishing industry to make a debt-paying record, but the inventor of that device was Mr. Kitchin. And to that invention the present demoralization of the Democratic party is partly due. In view of which it does seem that one of the first essential steps in the Democratic party's reorganization should be the demolition of Mr. Kitchin.

In the financial argot of Brindell and his associates, a "berry" meant $1000. They might have called it a "Newberry."

TRADING WITH RUSSIA.

On the heels of its victory over Wrangel the Russian Soviet Government has probably suffered its first serious defeat—a defeat which its sympathizers will construe as a triumph. We refer to the announcement by Lloyd George in the House of Commons to put into effect the trade agreement with Russia tentatively proposed last July.

With England at last convinced of the folly of trying to overthrow the Lenin regime by force, it may be assumed that France will also abandon that line of attack. The consequence will be that Russia's isolation will vanish. Contact with the world will inevitably compel comparison with the world. And, deplorable as is the condition of many peoples, there is no nation on earth from which happiness and hope have so utterly fled as from Russia.

That the bizarre Russian experiment can survive the test of comparison that will follow the reopening of free commercial and cultural intercourse does not seem possible. It was on the hatred and violence of the world that Lenin's terrorism thrived. In the light of the world's friendship and peace the ugliness of the dictatorship will be exposed and its wretched impossibility be established.

STORMBEAT.

I LIKE a frightened wren, beloved,
 In a hot noon, storm swept, cling
 To the tendril vine which shieldeth
 The valled spot wherein I am prisoned.
 I like a frightened wren whose wings
 Are hovel, flutter, whose throat
 Paneth and whose eyes seem lit
 Of a strange light. Surely,
 Surely yester e'en with its pallid moon
 And pledged shadows foretold Such intrusion, and the stars held
 No secret thing seeming confidently lit,
 With sincerity abeam. Surely yesterday e'en Foretold no storm. Yet e'en as I would sing.

The golden song of my toy stopped in fearing For the winds sweep hitherward and there is Confusion in the quiet places, there are rifts
 In the garlands and the blooms are stripped.

Oh beloved, this is no part with my song.
 I would not leave this hallowed spot.
 This valled pit. I am as a frightened wren Clinging to the tendril garlands.
 Whitherso hast thou flown beloved?
 I shall wait until the winds subside
 And the benediction of quietude Comes again to the pit.
 I shall wait for thy flute-like call,
 Assured by the pledge which is mine,
 The pledge that we two were mated!

PATIENCE WORTH.

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly tells us that the plight of the Russian intelligentsia is the saddest in history. Always the opposition to tyranny, it remains today no less opposed to the dictatorship of the soviets than in other days it was opposed to the imperialism of the Czar. For two years and a half it has been exiled in its own country as for 20 years it was literally exiled to Siberia. Even so, we are told, the Bolsheviks have worked diligently to reconcile the intelligentsia to soviet rule. Some of the intelligentsia, notably Maxim Gorky, have become reconciled. These men have sought diligently to capture the rest. In this they have failed. The intelligentsia of Russia, like that of every other country, is intensely loyal to its own country and to its own principles. Just as the espionage law and the fierce liberalism of Mr. Palmer drove our own intelligentsia away from Mr. Wilson's administration, so the iron rule of Lenin and Trotsky has driven the liberals of Russia away from the soviets. Money, which was all Lenin had to offer, as it was all the Czar had to offer, was the last thing to win them. So they remain a people without a country—an educated class brilliant in achievement, in the arts and sciences as such an element has seldom been brilliant in any country, for the time lost to the land which needs them most, scattered into all the cities of Western Europe and starving in Russia. That is a tragedy, sure enough.

BETH HEWLETT.

The other day Just a Minute rode through Iowa. What a State! Everywhere the farmers were husking corn, which I was told made upon one farm as high as 96 bushels to the acre. Everywhere the pastures were dotted with fat shorthorn beef cattle, with sheep and hogs. Everywhere there were neat white farm houses, painted silos and great red barns. The people who boarded the train at every station were a thrifty, prosperous, American-looking lot. I did not see a hard road in Iowa, but the dirt roads were dragged and graded. Land, they tell me, is worth from $200 to $500 an acre throughout all that great corn, wheat and oat growing belt which is the glory of that great agricultural State. Iowa, singularly, has no great cities. There are three cities in Missouri bigger than any city in Iowa. Yet Iowa—well, the soil has something to do with it; but we in Missouri have something to do with it too. How long are we to be like that in Missouri? They call us in Iowa "Missourians." That means more to Iowans than it does to us. It means to Iowans poor farmers, people asleep—a State without pep. They are outfarming us in Iowa, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska. They are outgirding us at Des Moines, Springfield, Topeka and Lincoln. There are no such delegations in the Iowa and Kansas Legislatures as we send to Jefferson City from St. Louis and Kansas City. We have just voted to let Missouri out of the mud. We need to get together to pull her out of the ruck.

 Surrounded by living creatures, yet alone.)
 I see myriads of patches o'er the field's expanse,

 Of an unknown something.

 I see outstretched hands thrust upwards,
 And hear a child uttering a prayer.
 See an old man with palsy.

AUSTRIA'S ELECTION.

A Diplomat in the Paris-Midi.
 PROVIDENCE must be on the side of the Entente. The Austrian elections are evidence that God, or some lucky chance, has charge of correcting our errors of policy. In deed, the elections ought logically to have resulted in favor of consolidation with Germany. All the allies' sins of omission, it seemed only natural that Austria should seek to throw her arms to the arms of her powerful neighbor. The Pan-Germans and the Social Democrats were so sure of it that they loudly insisted on a plebiscite. On the Entente side there were plenty of intelligences. Some were even saying that Benes (the Czechoslovak Premier) considered consolidation inevitable. The vote is taken, and the world rubs its eyes. The ballots are neither Pan-German nor Social-Democratic nor even socialist, but preponderantly Christian-Socialist. That is the group that does not think it desirable for Austria to abandon her independence. The result is so astonishing that explanations are eagerly sought. The London Daily Mail ascribes the miracle to the woman vote. The women were fighting the high cost of living and so they had to vote also, even perhaps without so intending against consolidation with Germany. Praised be the Lord! But meantime the chancelleries of Europe will do well not to rejoice too loudly. The victory of the partisans of independence seems to have been a chance one. What we have then, in so far as the question of New Austria is concerned, is simply a respite. This is a precious advantage, on the very eve of the day when the Assembly of the League of Nations, meeting for the first time, is likely to commit the stipulations that beginners always commit.

JAPAN'S POSITION IN WORLD.

Edwin Wideman in November Forum.
 JAPAN has outgrown her racial and economic isolation. She is the busiest nation in the world. She is a bee-hive of industry and her attitude for contemporary life is expanding with a clarity unparalleled in modern Oriental race. Racially, she is an entity, and is moved by a common thought, a united pulsation, and nationality is her religion. She is race proud and resents discrimination, at the same time intelligent enough to make the fight to prove her equality. The time has come when recognition of her position must be accorded. To deny her is to stimulate her to perhaps, pernicious activities, equally detrimental to her own well-being as to ours. The Japanese merchant, statesman and laborer are the equal of any, in intelligence and industry, in their own way, and not wanting in adaptability to the application of their abilities in foreign methods and means of getting results. Antagonists of Japan's ascendancy to the position of world power are inspired by self-interest, and not by reason and knowledge. Her abundance in population and production, since the war, has been revealed, and her prosperity has been turned to account at home by increasing her defenses and enlarging her scope of activities in adjacent territory. That acts have been viewed with suspicion by her enemies. They should be viewed with approbation. Japan's strength is today the backbone of the Far East. She is the nation in all the Far East we can deal with, diplomatically and commercially, dependably. Through her is the rehabilitation of China possible.

CALDER OUTLINES PLANS FOR AIDING HOME BUILDING

Senator, Investigating Housing Here, Urges Reduction in Maximum Income Tax to Release Capital.

LOCAL BUILDERS OFFER SUGGESTIONS

Passage of Proposed Banking Bill Providing Loans for Construction of Homes Favored.

Improvement of business in general through the establishment of enlarged credits for foreign countries, the removal of income tax payments on income derived from mortgages up to $40,000, and a radical reduction of the maximum income tax were among the ideas advanced by United States Senator William H. Calder of New York as means for creating a stimulus for the building industry, in an address before the St. Louis section of the Association of General Contractors at dinner at the Missouri Athletic Association last night.

Senator Calder is chairman of the Special Senate Committee on Reconstruction and Production and visited St. Louis yesterday as one of the Middle Western and Southern cities whose building and housing conditions he is studying in behalf of the committee, which is chiefly concerned over means for the relief of the housing shortage.

The dinner of the contractors was given as an opportunity for the Senator to learn of local construction and housing conditions. The views of the local builders were presented in a paper read by A. P. Greensfelder, giving 12 suggestions for remedying building stagnation. First among the recommendations was one for the establishment of a Federal Department of Public Works, "to minimize the duplication of effort of the many existing construction bureaus in the various departments."

"Improve European Credits."

"We must improve European credits if we would improve general business," said Senator Calder. "New York, Newport News, Boston are like the neck of our great export bottle and the exports are all backed up in these places and not flowing. If we start our wheat, cotton and other commodities flowing to Europe by making it possible for the countries there to purchase, we will greatly relieve general business."

"Indirectly, then, the building industry will be relieved. We need more warehouse office buildings and all sorts of buildings, not to mention the crying need for houses, in every city in the country."

"We have a situation in many states of double taxation of property because of the tax on mortgages. I understand that this is the case in Missouri. The laws for the taxation of mortgages should be repealed, as they prevent the financing of building."

The income tax law should be so modified as to make the maximum rate of taxation 30 per cent instead of 35 per cent.

"These measures will attract big capital back to the building industry. It has withdrawn to a large extent to buy up Liberty Bonds as safe securities. A big Chicago utility is converting its holdings into such securities because it figured mortgages gave it an income of only 14 per cent after taxes were paid."

"Home Loan Banking System."

Senator Calder took of the bill he has introduced in Congress providing for a home loan banking system in each Federal Reserve Bank district. Under this plan building loan associations would hold the stock of such banks and when at least $100,000 stock was subscribed the bank would be opened for the sole purpose of financing construction of homes.

"You may remember that in 1917 the Federal Reserve Board suggested that construction cease because of war needs, and intimidated to its banks that no loans should be made for building. After the war we found the whole fabric of the building industry dislocated, partly because of this."

The recommendations presented by Greensfelder, which Senator Calder said would be considered by his committee, are as follows:

1. For the creation of a Federal Department of Public Works.
2. For the passage of a Home Loan Bank bill, along the idea of Senator Calder's.
3. For certain modifications of the income tax.
4. For the collection of data by the Federal Reserve Board concerning bank credits available for the construction industry.
5. "We know that every year preparation is made for financing the agricultural harvest," Greensfelder said, "but we do

STATE RAIL RATES MUST CONFORM TO INTERSTATE TARIFFS, I. C. C. DECIDES

Federal Body Holds New Transportation Act Obligates It to Control Intrastate Commerce—More Than 24 States Affected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—In its first decision on the right of the Federal Government under the transportation act to require railroad rates within a state to correspond to the higher levels of interstate tariffs, the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday ordered the railroads of New York to establish passenger and baggage rates on intrastate traffic conforming to advanced interstate schedules. Similar rulings are pending affecting more than 24 states.

By its order of last August the commission authorized in the New York region an increase of 40 per cent in freight rates, 20 per cent in passenger fares, excess baggage charges and rates on milk and cream, and also a surcharge of 50 per cent on Pullman accommodations. The New York Public Service Commission granted the freight advance, except milk, but denied the other increases within the State, and the carriers appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Federal body held there was a general obligation resting upon it "to exercise control over interstate commerce so far as it affects interstate commerce."

Congress directed rates be allowed which would yield an aggregate return of from 5 1/2 to 6 per cent on the value of the railway properties, the commission stated, adding:

"There can be no doubt of the power of Congress to devise and provide for carrying into effect a plan for seeking the nation's interstate railroads a fair return upon the value of their property, and the full control of Congress in this matter is not to be denied on the ground that the carriers' aggregate earnings are a not know why elevators to store grain, mills to grind it, bakeries to bake it or machine shops to make the necessary machines are so-called non-essentials in obtaining credits."

For stabilizing road construction programs under Federal aid given through the Federal Highway Board.

6. For regulation similar to the above of governmental building work.

7. For greater use of local materials and inspection of materials at their source.

8. For speedy settlement of the Government's debt to the railroads to permit relief of freight car shortage and prevent slow delivery of materials, and for adjustment of rates.

9. For a national survey of fire losses and fire prevention measures to determine new economies in fire-proof construction.

10. For a national survey of safety measures for building workers.

11. For standardization of fabrication building materials.

12. For investigation of labor problems of the industry.

Senator Calder held consultations with various groups yesterday and departed last night for New Orleans. He will also visit Birmingham, Ala., before his return to Washington, D. C. Among those present at the dinner were General Manager Cunliffe of the Home and Housing Association and Harland Batholomew, engineer of the City Plan Commission. F. C. Woernmann, president of the St. Louis section of the Association of General Contractors, presided. An informal discussion of the building situation followed the Senator's address.

commingling of intrastate revenue and interstate revenue.

"The records show that the refusal of the State of New York to permit the carriers to increase the rates and fares here in controversy to the extent approved by us is costing the railroads between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 annually. In other words, the annual earnings of the interstate carriers operating in New York are now between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 less than they would be if the general level of rates and fares approved by us had become effective on intrastate traffic and to that extent the declared purpose of Congress is defeated by a preferential basis of rates and fares maintained by authority of the State of New York."

"It has not happened heretofore, that we have had occasion to make such an extensive exercise of our authority as is now contemplated, and we could not be moved to do so, save by the most cogent reasons. Such reasons have been supplied by the situation in which the transportation interests of the country were placed and the action taken by Congress to relieve that situation."

One Commissioner Dissents.

A dissenting opinion was handed down by Commissioner Eastman, who contended the decision of the majority was beyond the lawful power of the commission.

"The objection is more than technical," he declared, "for it concerns the basic relations between the State and the Federal Government, a matter of great moment."

Carriers asked by the commission required the new rates to become effective by Dec. 18, on the filing of five days' notice to the commission and the public. Increases on commodities fares and charges on excess baggage carried in connection with such fares was excepted from the general order and reserved for future decision by the commission.

EGYPTIAN WOMEN TAKING AN INTEREST IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS

School Matters Particularly Attract Them; Change Attributed to Progress in Their Education.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Egyptian women are at last beginning to take an interest in public affairs, particularly in the schools. Viscount Milner in his report as High Commissioner of Egypt says that no change which has taken place in that country in the last few years none is more striking than the awakening interest of women in affairs outside of the home.

The commissioner added that a few years ago it was rare to find a mother showing a direct personal interest in the welfare of her daughter at school. All this was left to the father, who often had to overcome the mother's opposition to the education of her daughter. "During the last few years these conditions have changed in the larger towns where mothers now send their daughters to school with the head teacher," said the report.

This change is attributed by the High Commissioner largely to education and he predicts that its influence will be potent on the future progress of educational development in Egypt.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK ABSORBS MORTGAGE TRUST

Purchase of Virtually All Stock of That Company and of Mortgage Guarantee Co. Announced.

Announcement of the purchase by the First National Bank of the Mortgage Trust Co. and the Mortgage Guarantee Co., 202 North Broadway, was made today. A consolidation will take place Jan. 1, the Mortgage Trust Co. becoming the investment department of the First National, which will transfer its bond department to the Mortgage company.

F. C. Woernmann, president of the First National, said that his bank had purchased virtually all the stock of the two other companies, but would retain their officers and staffs of employees, and that for a while the companies would remain at the present location.

The deal was brought about in the following fashion: The Mortgage Trust Co. bought up the stock of the Mortgage Guarantee Co. and then the First National Bank made an offer for the total stock. At meeting of the boards of directors of the Mortgage company yesterday afternoon, the proposals were approved.

The Mortgage Guarantee Co. was organized in 1909, with capital of $500,000 and surplus of $50,000. The mortgage Trust Co. was organized two years later with a capital of $500,000 and surplus of $100,000. Their total assets are $1,800,000.

Tom W. Bennett, who is president of both the acquired companies, will remain as head of the First National's investment department. All the employees of the present bond department of the First National will be retained.

This deal was the third large merger of St. Louis financial houses during the last 17 months. The First National was formed in July of last year by the merger of the Third National, Mechanics-American and St. Louis Union Bank and Trust. It was announced a few days ago that the Liberty Bank had acquired the majority of stock in the Central National Bank and that they would be consolidated.

ILLINOIS AUTO CLUBS WILL CELEBRATE ROAD COMPLETION

100 Miles of Hard-Surfaced Highways in Central Part of State to Be Opened.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—Plans for a gigantic celebration to mark the release of more than 100 miles of hard roadways through central Illinois, to take place the latter part of this month, probably at Mason City, are being made by automobile clubs in this locality. Several of the newly built hard roads already have been thrown open to the public and several more are scheduled for release later.

Officials of the several automobile clubs believe that the completion of more than 100 miles of hardened road surface from Chillicothe, south through Peoria and Springfield to Chatham, should be the occasion for rejoicing of "motorists of the Midwest," which has been closed for more than two years. De-touring to the Chinoapin road to reach the city from the north no longer will be necessary. The date for the opening of the hard road between Springfield and Peoria, between Barr Station and Athens, has been set for Nov. 23.

150 MEMBERS OF C. OF C. DISCUSS 36 AIMS FOR 1921

Picked Men Representing All Business in City Attend Special Session Planning New Membership Effort.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF 1920 OUTLINED

"Stand Up for St. Louis" Adopted as Slogan as Result of Young Woman's Action in Chicago.

The 1921 program of the Chamber of Commerce was informally discussed yesterday in Hotel Statler during a luncheon of 150 members picked from the roster as representative of all business in the city.

President W. Frank Carter said of the gathering: "The machinery for accomplishing any task of any magnitude in behalf of St. Louis is within this room."

The purpose of the meeting was stated to be "to quicken the New St. Louis spirit," through increased membership in the Chamber. The radius of Chamber activities extends or contracts in proportion to the amount of money made available by membership dues, its only source of income.

The 150 men present pledged by voting that they would bring out new members of the organization and would ask nine others, whose names were given to them, to join also. This method of obtaining members was adopted in the belief that "drives" accompanied by public trumpeting have lost their efficacy. The names of 2700 eligibles later will be sent to all members, who are asked to make personal effort to obtain memberships among them.

"Stand Up for St. Louis."

The slogan for the effort is "Stand Up for St. Louis," taken from the recent action of Miss Maude Evans of 1919 Union boulevard in challenging in public a statement of Mayor Thompson of Chicago in a speech in a Chicago theater that St. Louis was a "dead city."

"It ought to be so common for a St. Louisan to stand up for his city that Maude Evans' action could not, as it was, have been worthy of so much publicity," said John G. Lonsdale, president of the National Bank of Commerce.

M. L. Wilkinson, president of Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney, who made the appeal to the business men to work for an enlarged Chamber of Commerce, said that the chamber must expand its activities in 1921 to meet all the demands of a reconstruction period in which the problems proper for its action were sure to be many.

Plans for Next Year.

An eight-page folder was distributed in which the "things to do" for 1921 were listed, numbered 71, were set forth. Two pages were devoted to setting forth 36 things to be undertaken in 1921. These are:

"Continuous study of terminal problems."

Seventy-five thousand dollars' municipal advertising campaign.

Increasing number of industrial plants.

Trade route vigilance to expand St. Louis markets.

Careful vigilance over State and national legislation.

Re-establishment of complete package car system.

Increase of river equipment and freight as foreign trade outlet.

Urgent Federal tax revision.

Reduction of crime in St. Louis.

Better relations between employers and labor.

Development of foreign trade.

Encouragement of livestock and agricultural exportation.

Co-operation tending to Municipal Opera, Style Show, Symphony Orchestra and similar worthy movements.

Advertising St. Louis products in Latin-America to expand foreign trade.

Protect members against unworthy charities.

Encourage opening additional industrial acreage and factory sites with trackage.

Advocate construction of industrial unit factory buildings and housing facilities.

Co-operate with real estate exchange for proper legislation to promote factory construction.

Push ordinance requiring licensing of automobile drivers.

Safety expert will visit all factories four times annually.

SLIGHT BENEFIT FELT BY CONSUMERS IN RECENT DOWNWARD PRICE TREND

36-Cent Dollar of Last May Said to Have Given Place to 44-Cent Dollar; Food Decline Here Greater Than Country's Average.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Despite constant reports of declining prices and an effort to reach "the pre-war level," investigation of retail and wholesale prices charged in various cities throughout the country shows that only slight benefit has as yet been obtained by the consumer.

The "36-cent dollar" of May, 1920, when the upward price movement reached its peak, has given place, according to statistics gathered by the Department of Labor, to the "44-cent dollar."

These figures are obtained from the wholesale markets where the downward trend of prices has made itself most evident. Only in the clothing markets are complete statistics available on all the articles ordinarily purchased by the householder.

The figures on the retail markets for foodstuffs show that in July of this year the dollar was worth only 46 cents; since then it has reached an estimated value of 50 cents. The investigators of the Department of Labor took the prices in 1913 as their basis for all calculations.

As a rule the wholesale prices of the various articles gradually moved upward until the armistice was signed, then began to jump by leaps and bounds until the crest was reached in May and since then have been declining, but declining at no such pace as the procession upward.

Food at Retail Highest in July.

In the retail markets food prices reached their crest in July and the decline since has been slight. Men who have watched the credit situation and its relation to the price movement insist that a good deal of the present difficulty in industry is due to the effort of wholesalers and retailers to maintain a high price level until they can rid their shelves of goods purchased at high prices. It is argued that otherwise many of the merchants would suffer losses.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that merchants did not hesitate to take advantage of the upward trend of prices regardless of the price level at which they made purchases.

Referring again to the statistics relative to wholesale prices, the investigations by the Department of Labor show the following conditions in the various commodities:

Foodstuffs reached the highest price in May, when the dollar was worth 34 cents; it is now worth 38 cents. Farm products reached the peak in April, when the dollar value was 42 cents; present it is 53. Clothes and clothing in March, when the dollar value was 28 cents, now 39; fuel, dollar value in September was 35 cents and it has increased very little; metals and metal products, dollar value in July, 1920, was 35 cents, now 54; lumber and building materials, dollar value in May 29 cents, now 32; chemicals, dollar value in October, 1917, 38 cents, now 46; house furnishings, dollar value in October of this year was 27 cents; miscellaneous, dollar value in June, 40 cents, now 44 cents.

4 Per Cent Decline Here.

Retail food prices declined an average of 4 per cent in St. Louis from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, the Bureau of Labor statistics announces. In its monthly price review, the decrease was 1 per cent more than the average for the country. Estimates are based on the cost of 22 staple articles making up two-thirds of the average family's food budget. St. Louis prices are still 4 per cent higher than a year ago and 101 per cent higher than seven years ago.

A decrease of 3 per cent throughout the United States was noted. Greatest decreases were in prices of sugar, 24 per cent, and potatoes, 13 per cent. The price of eggs increased 14 per cent.

The average family expenditure for the 22 articles of food decreased in all of the 51 cities from which monthly prices were tabulated, except Houston, Tex., where there was an increase of approximately fifteenth of 1 per cent.

The greatest decrease, 6 per cent, was in Omaha and St. Paul. In Chicago the decrease was 4 per cent, Kansas City, 3 per cent, Dallas and New Orleans, 2 per cent, and New York, 1 per cent.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE SENATOR FOR FARMERS

Ladd Will Try to Promote Better System for Marketing Farm Products.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 19.—Dr. E. F. Ladd, first United States Senator elected as a candidate of the Non-Partisan League, announced here that his first aim in Congress will be to promote a better system for marketing the grain and other food products of the farm.

"It is a serious problem that faces Congress," Dr. Ladd said. "Somebody must do something to save the next few years, if we are to save the farming industry from demoralization. Even now the most of the new men on the farm are middle-aged and elderly—the younger men are looking for greater opportunities."

Dr. Ladd added that effort should be made to bring a better school system into rural districts and give the farm children the same chances for education as hold in towns and cities.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Only two courses—co-operation with its fellow nations in maintaining peace, or isolation and the resulting drift toward inevitable war—present themselves to each nation in the world, Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, declared last night in an address before the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York.

"There are only two possible paths before each nation at a time of world change like this," the Ambassador said. "It can co-operate with its fellows and maintain peace and fellowship between itself and them, devote its energies to the solution of its internal problems. Alternatively, it can follow the path that Germany followed in the years before 1914, throw the blame for its internal difficulties upon the other nations of the world and drift toward war, which some day will look and will be assumed to be inevitable. I know of no third road which any state can tread."

"The world waits for an answer to the question—Are the British-American contacts to be fair and friendly, even in trade rivalry and trade competition, or are they to be marked by suspicion, political jealousy and scheming to establish exclusive economic spheres?" the Ambassador said.

"If it is to be the first, then the future is bright. There is no problem which in friendly co-operation we cannot solve. If it were to be the second, sadness would possess me. The choice is yours. The British empire offers Americans friendship."

Four Emergency Hospitals Filled—Situation Said to Be Desperate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Seven hundred and eighty persons today were suffering from typhoid fever in this city of less than 10,000 population. "We have not yet reached the peak of the epidemic," said Lamont.

Former Treasury Investigator Testifies of Man Who Was Paid by Former Employer When Acting for Board.

OVERCHARGES FOUND IN SHIP PURCHASES

Board Employee Said to Have Got $242 Commission in Deal That Cost U. S. $2450 Too Much.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Testimony of former special agent of the Treasury Department, virtually all of whom were withdrawn from investigation of United States Shipping Board purchases and accounts after a brief period of such work, marked the opening of today's hearing by the congressional committee investigating Shipping Board affairs here.

Peter J. Sullivan, one of those former agents, who after about "a month on the job," was transferred to Nogales, Ariz., told of a Shipping Board purchasing agent at New York, who, while on the Government payroll, continued to draw his salary from his former employer, the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company.

This man's name, Sullivan said, was David Wahmond, with whom Sullivan "had trouble." Wahmond, objected to Sullivan's questioning of his subordinates except in his presence and used threatening language to him, Sullivan testified.

Martin D. Jewell, another former Treasury Department agent, said he had discovered overcharges in purchases of condensed milk in which a Shipping Board employee had received a commission of $242. The board paid $10,825 for this purchase, including an overcharge of $2450, Jewell said.

Jewell corroborated Sullivan's testimony that Wahmond was on the payrolls both of the Shipping Board and the steamship company while working for the board.

Jewell testified that there was slackness of Shipping Board checkers in weighing supplies purchased for the board, and alleged that there was discrimination in buying for the board.

BUILDING COSTS TO RECEDE GRADUALLY, ARCHITECTS SAY

Reductions of a Seesawing Nature Over a Period of Years Advanced as Opinion of Institute.

DIRECTORS HOLD EXECUTIVE MEETING

Program at General Session Tomorrow to Include an Address on Attitude of Labor Toward Industry.

A theory that building costs will recede gradually over a period of years before they return to normal, and that the downward swing of prices will not be direct, but of a seesawing nature, was advanced to a representative of the board of directors of the American Institute of Architects, which is meeting at Hotel Statler today. The theory was put forward by Charles Harris Whitaker, of Washington, D. C., editor of the Journal of the Institute, and he confirmed it as the unofficial opinion of the institute.

The theory had been advanced locally by James P. Jamieson, a St. Louis architect, who said that costs will probably recede a little by spring, and that the rush of building which is expected to follow will tend to force prices back towards the present level. He predicted that such a seesawing movement of prices would continue for perhaps years, and that eventually the level will drop considerably.

Belief Declared General.
John Lawrence Mauran, fellow of the institute and its former president, coincided in the belief of this theory. He said he thought the belief was general among institute members. "A remedy for the advance of prices, once they decline a little," said Mauran, "lies in a careful acquisition of materials. If every one wants to build at once, of course the sudden demand for materials will be too much for the market."

The session of the Board of Directors today is in the nature of an annual business meeting, and is private. Tomorrow architects from St. Louis and the surrounding portion of the country will be guests of the St. Louis chapter, with the directors and officers, and will hear a number of speakers on subjects pertinent to the profession and the relief of the building industry.

Whitaker was asked to summarize the situation from the viewpoint of the institute. "There is no doubt that the building industry has ceased to function, practically," he responded. "We see no chance for immediate relief."

Some Price Declines.
St. Louis architects who were seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter told of various instances of price declines accomplished or expected. One said that lumber had gone down as much as 50 per cent for certain varieties. Another said that after Jan. 1 prices of a number of building materials probably will decline and that notably plumbing fixtures will go down from 10 to 25 per cent. He was skeptical, however, and declared, "Somebody is playing a freeze-out game."

Bids on millwork for a $20,000 industrial job showed a decrease of 25 per cent in price, another declared. One man said that local cement companies laughed at him several months ago when he sought to buy cement for a small job. Recently, he said, their salesmen had come to see him, inquiring what the prospects for new buildings were.

Courthouse Plans Discussed.
President Henry H. Kendall of Boston presided at the meeting. The full board of nine members, including two St. Louisans, is in attendance, as are most of the officers. As related in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, the session planned to take up discussion of registration of architects and engineers in the various States, so that their functions may be interchangeable wherever they qualify.

Regarding the plan for informal discussion of the rehabilitation of the St. Louis Courthouse at Broadway and Market streets, it was said today that the necessity is more for modernizing the structure than for strengthening, although inspection may show the need for reinforcing. Mauran said that there are two general schemes of courthouses, those with interior courtyards, lighted only from courtyards, but comparatively free from noise, and those with outside courtyards, well lighted, but having difficulty with street noises.

"The St. Louis courthouse is of the latter variety, but so is the new and excellent New York courthouse," he said. "If anything is done here it probably would be necessary to install sound-proof outer walls and windows, modern forced ventilation and a satisfactory heating plant."

It was learned today that architects frequently save money for their clients by specifying fancy ceiling moldings in plaster, rather than plain plastering. It was said that the fancy scrolls and beadings are partly done by machine and are installed by one particular union of plasterers, paid a reasonable wage, but that the straight plastering is done by another union, whose men receive $11 a day.

"The Attitude of Labor Toward Industry" is to be discussed at tomorrow's meeting at the Chamber of Commerce assembly room by John R. Alpine, a former vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and a representative of a building union.

BAKER'S COCONUT

Coconut Peaks—a pleasant surprise for the sweet tooth

IT'S a candy. The young folks and the old folks, too, will pronounce it a d-e-e-light with the prolonged accent on the d-e-e—when it's produced from Baker's recipe that is shown below.

And the reason is the big difference between Baker's Fresh Grated Coconut, and the ordinary dried kind. Baker's Fresh Grated Coconut (in tin cans) will give you an entirely new idea of how good coconut can be.

Coconut for Every Coconut Purpose
Buy Baker's Dry Shred Coconut, the old-fashioned, sugar-cured kind in paper cartons or Baker's Fresh Grated Coconut WITH the milk in the distinctive blue label cans.

Write for free recipe booklet.

Recipe for Coconut Peaks
1 Can Baker's Fresh Grated Coconut.
2 Cups Granulated Sugar.
1 Cup Coconut Milk—of cow's milk.
2 Egg Whites.
Pinch of Baking Soda.
Press Coconut thoroughly as illustrated on can label. Place 1/2 of the pressed Coconut, Sugar and Coconut or cow's milk into a saucepan, stir over fire until dissolved, then boil until it forms a soft ball when dipped in cold water, about 12 to 15 minutes. Add the hot sugar syrup slowly to well-beaten egg whites, beating all the while, then add pinch of soda and beat until thick.
Form into steeples and roll in the remainder of the Coconut. Coconut may be lightly toasted in oven before rolling peaks.

Arrest in Actress' Death.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Michael Cox, alias James McCarthy, the ship's cook wanted in connection with the death of Marie Ramey and Lillian Thompson, actresses, last Sunday, has been arrested at Sault Ste. Marie, Cox denied that he was in the cabaret party which preceded the actresses' death. He said he met Miss Ramey and Miss Thompson Saturday afternoon and escorted them to their home. He said he left the young women when they met the two other men at their residence.

Mexico Refuses Oil Pipe Permits.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—All three petitions asking for concessions to build an oil pipe line across the Isthmus on Tehuantepec, filed here recently, have been rejected by the Mexican Government. Jacinto B. Trevino, Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, announced last night. He declared that if such a line is built, the construction work will be carried on by the Mexican Government.

LONDON AUTO POND CATCHES THE UNWARY

Many Awake to Fact That Hogging the Streets for Parking Space Is Law Violation.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, Nov. 19.—The village pond had a revival in Piccadilly, when careful owners of automobiles who saved garage charges by parking their cars in the middle of the road suddenly woke up to the fact that the police had issued a regulation forbidding the practice and that they could only recover their cars after opening their pocketbooks.

For many years it has been an offense against the police regulations to leave a vehicle unattended on the highways of London, but the coming of the motor car saw a slight relaxation in the enforcement of the regulations. During the war period the police winked at many evasions of the street regulations and the motoring community took full advantage of their slackness.

Recently the parking of cars in the middle of the road while their owners attended to business or pleasure has reached limits that have hindered the passing of traffic in some of the principal streets, and the police have found it necessary to act. They gave due notice that after a certain date no cars would be allowed to stand in certain streets and this morning they acted. When the owners of cars who had left them on the highway returned from lunch they found their cars missing and found that the police had impounded them under the regulations.

The officials of the Automobile Association express themselves in agreement with the police action and intend to support the police in the matter. They point out that the leaving of a large car in some of the streets makes it difficult for the motor busses to pass without danger.

The man who has been accustomed to leave his car in the middle of the road all day in order that he might watch it from his office window will now have to garage it. Those who shop and lunch in Piccadilly will have to arrange for the car to return to an appointed place at a specific hour.

It is a legal offense to leave a car unattended so that it becomes an obstruction, and this will prevent automobilists transferring their cars into the numerous side streets that lead from Piccadilly. The proprietors in the neighborhood will reap a good harvest because of the police edict.

THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.
First—you see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.
Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore less is required.
Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness—lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—finer grained.

"S-o-m-e Biscuit!"
CALUMET
BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Biscuit

Recipe

4 cups of sifted pastry flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 level teaspoon of salt, 2 rounding tablespoons of butter or lard, 1 1/2 cup of milk, 3/4 cup of water. Then mix in the regular way.

Three units of value in clothing

It all resolves down to the question of what is value. In clothing we see three units of value.

The finest woollens—because they wear longest and look best.

Hand tailoring—because the finest woollens deserve the best handling.

Made to order from individual measurements—because that is the only way to obtain a perfect fitting garment, and it would be a shame to be satisfied with anything less when fine woollens and hand tailoring are used.

WORKERS TELL OF QUEER OBJECTIONS TO RED CROSS

Soldier Interposes When One Declares It Is "No Good"—Others Oppose It Because It Doesn't Aid Soviets.

DOWNTOWN STREET DECORATIONS GIVEN

Automobile Club to Issue Stickers to 10,000 Members—Women's Emergency Corps of 300 Organized

Workers engaged in soliciting memberships in the Red Cross reported interesting incidents that occurred on their rounds yesterday. One of these occurred when a solicitor entered a store on South Broadway. The man approached said that he did not believe in the Red Cross, and that it was "no good."

A returned soldier sitting near overheard the statement and interposed. He said that he was wounded four times during one engagement in France, and that a surgeon who looked at him on the field gave him up, and passed on. When the soldier awoke later, he said, he was in a hospital, being attended by a Red Cross nurse. A Red Cross stretcher party having carried him in.

Frank V. Hammar, chairman of the roll call organization, said today that a few persons have objected to subscribing on the ground that the Red Cross had sent aid to the forces opposing the armies of Soviet Russia, but had sent none to Soviet Russia, where there was great suffering.

Hammar explained that the Red Cross is organized under the Government, and cannot send aid to countries in which the governments are not recognized by this Government. This Government does not recognize the Soviet government.

The development of the campaign continued yesterday, when an emergency corps of 300 women was formed to assist the regular organization of the women's division. It also was announced that the St. Louis Automobile Club will issue Red Cross stickers to its 10,000 members, to be displayed on their cars.

It was made known at the roll call headquarters yesterday that the expense of decorating the downtown district to call attention to the roll call had been borne by a friend of the chapter, who desired that his identity be kept secret. The decorations cost the Red Cross nothing, it was said.

DOWNWARD MOVEMENT IN PRICES REPORTED FROM CANADA

OTTAWA, Canada, Nov. 19.—A continued downward movement in prices in Canada is shown by the report of the cost of living branch of the Labor Department, prepared for publication in the Labor Gazette.

The report states that the department index number of wholesale prices was down to 225.6 in September, as compared with 230.2 for August, 246.8 for July, 248.3 for June and 256.6 for May.

For September, 1919, the index number was 201.5. Prices are still far more than double those prevailing in pre-war days. In September, 1914, the index number was 141.3, and in September, 1913, it stood at 124.4.

The average cost of a list of 29 simple foods in terms of retail prices in some 60 cities in Canada at the middle of September was $15.95, as compared with $16.69 for August, $16.84 for July, $16.98 for June, $14.33 for September, 1919.

Grains, cattle, beef, sheep and lamb, potatoes, onions, tomatoes, flour, sugar, molasses, glucose, coffee, cotton, silk, hides, leather, lead, quicksilver, tin, coke, some lines of lumber, linseed oil, turpentine, copra, salt and raw rubber declined in prices, but hog products, butter, cheese, eggs, milk, mackerel, bananas, oranges, salt, brass, chain, coal, gasoline, wooden pallets were higher.

In retail prices, states the report, averages were lower for beef, lard, flour, rolled oats, sugar and potatoes, but higher for pork, bacon, eggs and butter. Coal, wood and coal oil were higher, and rent averaged slightly lower.

The chief decreases, states the report, were seasonal, due to good crops and large supplies on the markets, but there was also a continuation of the downward movement in the prices of many materials.

MANUFACTURE OF DIAMONDS NOT IMPOSSIBLE, WORKER SAYS

Doubt Expressed as to Making Them Artificially at Less Cost Than Mining Them.

By the Associated Press.
AMSTERDAM, Nov. 19.—Henry Polak, president of the Dutch Diamond Workers' Union, says it is not impossible that a German explosives firm has discovered how to manufacture diamonds artificially, as it claims to have done. The chief difficulty is to obtain an unbelievably powerful pressure under the right circumstances, Polak explained. Since it is a manufacturer of explosives which is reported to have discovered the method of making diamonds, he said it was possible that experimenters were succeeding in obtaining the desired pressure.

Polak expressed some doubt as to whether diamonds could be manufactured artificially at less than the cost of mining them.

It was recently announced in Berlin that a dynamite company of Hamburg had obtained the patent for the manufacture of diamonds and was in a position to produce several hundred carats daily at a cost less than the present world price for the natural stones.

Forbes-Robertson Tells a Story.
MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 19.—Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson lectured on Shakespeare here recently and enlivened his remarks with some good stories. One was about two old maids who, during Queen Victoria's reign, sat behind him at a performance of "Antony and Cleopatra." The curtain went down on a scene in which Cleopatra had "kicked considerably over the traces." "How very different from the home life of our dear Queen," said one maiden lady to the other.

CORN HUSKERS WANT TOP PAY

Refuse to Give Price and Gain Is Allowed to Stand in Fields.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—
Corn husking in the northern part of Illinois is being seriously delayed by refusal of farmers to pay corn huskers the wages they received last year. Reports to this effect reached D. Fessenden, agricultural statistician for the State Department of Agriculture.

The price agreed upon by farmers in Northern Illinois this year was 6 cents a bushel, says Fessenden. Last year they paid corn huskers 8 and 9 cents a bushel. Few corn huskers can be found this year who are willing to work for 6 cents, the reports state, and as a result Northern Illinois corn is still in the field. There is no immediate danger of it going bad, the farmers say, but unless huskers are found soon the crop will be ruined. Reports from Central Illinois and down-State farmers have it that a scale ranging from 5 to 10 cents a bushel is being paid huskers, and that quite a number are to be had at those prices.

Corset Prices Reduced.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Corsets have joined the list of articles of apparel selling at reduced prices. A large

Chicago corset manufacturer has announced reductions of from 20 to 25 per cent on cotton, silk and elastic corsets.

Receiver for Motors Concern.
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 19.—Federal Judge Thomas C. Manger yesterday evening appointed Joseph E. Rosenfield of Omaha receiver for the Hebb Motors Co. and the Patriot Motors Co., motor truck manufacturing plants at Havelock, a suburb of Lincoln. The Patriot company is the successor of the Hebb company, but had not absorbed entirely the stock of the latter. It is said the assets, if carefully handled, will more than meet the liabilities. The application for the receivership was made by supply houses of Omaha and Kansas City.

HARDING LOOKS FOR TRADE PROSPERITY

Industrial Depression Is Only Momentary, President-Elect Writes Mining Congress.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 19.—Despite a "trying period in which national policy and aspiration have been misinterpreted and misjudged, the United States is sound and secure," and the "world's mainstay and hope," President-elect Warren G. Harding declared to the American Mining Congress, in a letter which was read last night at the annual convention of the congress.

He also declared that he was anxious to take counsel with such men as would attend the congress in outlining the policies of his administration.

Senator Harding's letter follows:
"I have to thank you for your invitation to the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining Congress and to express my regrets that it will be impossible for me to accept. My regrets are the more keen because your meeting will bring together a body of men with which I am anxious to take counsel in outlining the policies of the next administration. I am aware of the difficulties that confront the mining industry of the country, and would be glad of the opportunity to familiarize myself with some of the details.

Depression Only Momentary.
"It is my hope and belief that we will presently be brought to realize that the tendency to reaction and industrial depression is only momentary. Not only is our own country sound and secure, but it is the world's mainstay and hope. We have been through a trying period in which national policy and aspiration have been misinterpreted and mis-judged. We have now had a convincing demonstration of the real attitude of the American people, and it will not fail to reassure both our own people and the rest of the world, which so greatly needs our steadfast support and aid.

"A mighty effort will be required of us to meet the demands that a recovering world will impose. In no direction will these demands be more pressing than in supplying the necessaries of life and reconstruction that must come from the richness of American mines. With wisdom and deliberation such as we hope to secure by dint of existing the aid of such expert authorities as your own organization represents, I believe we shall place our country and its industry once more on the high road of prosperity and success. To that end you may be assured that every energy and effort of the new administration will be directed.

"Please be good enough to convey to the congress and all its members the assurance of my pleasure in receiving your invitation, and of my wish to serve you, in common with every other worthy American interest. Most sincerely yours,
"WARREN G. HARDING."

MRS. THOMAS A. EDISON A JUROR

All-Women Jury Will Try Man's Case in New Jersey.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Every woman in New Jersey's electorate is bursting with pride over the all-star woman's jury which next Monday, in the Orange District Court, will demonstrate to Judge Duncan and all good men and true, that it is no mere
lady.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, who has been called the only "boss" the "Wizard" recognizes will leave her home in Llewellyn Park for the somber courtroom as the chief of a remarkable selection for the jury box.
The case is that of Jack Segall, charged by the New Jersey State Board of Registration and Examination in Dentistry with illegally practicing a crude art on the molars of unfortunate victims. The women who will pronounce him guilty or not guilty have all been more or less identified with public life. Many of them were prominent in the suffrage movement.

Sympathy Expressed for Japanese.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 19.—
A resolution of sympathy for the Japanese in California because of the attitude manifested toward them in the recent adoption of the alien law by the State was adopted in yesterday's session of the American Masonic Association. The resolution was proposed by the Rev. Dr.
George L. Cady, of New York, and declared the Japanese were victims of "un-Christian propaganda."

WILL TEST NEW SIGNAL LAMP

Proposed Device Is Sunk in Center of Street Crossings.

The Street Department is planning to test out a form of street crossing signal lamp now in use in Milwaukee. This is a green light with a covering of metal grill work, sunk in the center of street crossings and designed to take the place of the post lights now in use at 65 St. Louis street crossings.

The new light and its covering will be only eight inches above the street surface, and could be run over by an automobile without being damaged. It would cost $50, as compared with the $150 cost of the present post lights. The first test will be made in about two weeks at Lindell boulevard and Grand avenue.

MANUFACTURING FIRM REDUCES PAINT 40 CENTS A GALLON

Decrease Applies to House Paints and is Equivalent to About 15 Per Cent.

A reduction of 40 cents a gallon in the manufacture's price of paints was announced today by B. B. Cannon, district manager of the Sherwin-Williams company, to take effect immediately. Cannon stated that this was equivalent to about 15 per cent and that it applied to house paints and practically everything in the paint line.

The Sherwin-Williams company's production is 40 per cent of the country's output, Cannon stated. It is expected that other companies will announce similar reductions.

There has been expectation of a reduction for the past 60 days. It is attributed to general conditions and the decline in the cost of production, linseed oil, one of the basic elements of cost, having declined $1.85 to $1 since June. The decline in paint prices is the first since 1914.

BRITAIN TAKES GOOD CARE OF HER SHELL-SHOCKED SOLDIER

Search for Subject Results in Man's Pardon From Texas Penitentiary.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 19.—The care Great Britain exercises over her subjects was illustrated vividly recently by events leading up to the pardoning of a former Canadian soldier from the Texas Penitentiary.

About a year ago the man was sentenced to two years in prison on a charge of swindling in connection with giving checks upon banks in which he had no money. Recently the British Consul at Galveston made a formal request to the Governor that the man be pardoned. The request stated that the soldier had been gassed and shell-shocked and was not mentally responsible for his action, and that the Government had been searching for him for about a year. Reports of British medical officers to this effect were attached to the application, which made the condition that if the pardon were granted the British Government would transport the man to Canada and place him in a hospital there for treatment. The Governor granted the pardon.

Man Hanged in Chicago for Killing His Wife.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Arthur Haensel, convicted of murdering his wife, was executed in Cook County Jail today, after efforts to obtain an eleventh-hour reprieve from Gov. Lowden had failed.

As Haensel mounted the gallows he smiled, and when asked if he had any statement to make, thanked the jailers and those who had tried to aid him. He was still smiling when the cap was adjusted over his head. Haensel killed his wife in February, 1919, following his return from the army.

Barefooted Millionaires in Russia.
By the Associated Press.
BERNE, Nov. 19.—Barefooted millionaires are reported prevalent in the Crimea, according to a letter of a Swiss woman quoting prices in depreciated Russian rubles. The incomes of peasants is great because the land there is productive and a pound of wheat sells roughly at 1000 rubles. On the expense side of the ledger, shoes cost 50,000 rubles, a suit of clothes 200,000. Farm laborers get 10,000 rubles a day.

ANECDOTE OF ONLY MEETING OF JENNIE LIND AND PATTI

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 29.—A member of the French Academy of Music recently told the following anecdote concerning the only meeting between Jenny Lind and Adelina Patti. It is timely in connection with celebrations of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the "Swedish Nightingale." Patti, whose youth was just budding into womanhood, sang one evening in one of the leading salons of the Champs Elysees. Among the audience was Jenny Lind, then rather an aged woman. After the applause following Patti's singing had subsided, the Swedish singer approached Mme. Patti and congratulated her, but not without making reserves as to a certain detail of omission and a slight criticism of certain notes.

"I feel that I may tell you this without offense," she added, "because, you see, I am Jenny Lind."

Displeased by the remark, Patti replied rily: "Oh, yes, I have heard of you; my grandmother spoke to me of you."

Passenger Coaches as Kindling.
ARANSAS PASS, Tex., Nov. 19.—With the starting of reconstruction of the Aransas Harbor Terminal railway recently, residents of this city were given several passenger coaches, too badly damaged to be rebuilt, for use as kindling wood. The coaches were wrecked in the storm of Sept. 14, 1919, and since that time had been standing in the yards here.

CIVIL SERVICE DRAWS
MANY EX-SERVICE MEN

Fully 60,000 Employed and 40,000 Have Been Certified for Positions.

The civil service is undergoing a change, for many former army men are "sail in the service" and are injecting some of the old-time war pep into their handling of the mail, keeping records of Government insurance, helping to liquidate the nation's war contracts, putting together the results of the 1920 census, opening up and irrigating and draining new Government land, clerking in all the various Government departments—doing anything that needs to be done around the national household. The number of ex-service men working for the Government is increasing steadily, and today numbers 60,000 who have passed the examination and 40,000 who have been certified for appointment. At the present time the actual count is 15,750 ex-service folk now detailed for duty with the Government, but with these new appointments the number will be doubled and trebled in the near future.

"It reminds a person of old times to wander through some Government building and hear a head clerk shout out the never-to-be-forgotten 'map into it,'" writes J. W. Rixey Smith. "Many a sedate and settled-for-the-ages Government bureau has had its papers and its calm ruffled recently as the thousands of men who did their hitch in the army or the navy walked in under civil service to occupy desks in just about the same manner as they would take trenches. They hurl papers around as if they were throwing Mills bombs, and they chase in and out as if they were always after a German, bitterly lamented one old-timer about to be retired to make way for the new blood.

Preference for Ex-Soldiers.
Many amendments looking toward civil service jobs for ex-service men and women and their dependents have been added to the civil service laws. Five such amendments and two executive orders of the President have been instrumental in opening the gates of Government service as wide as possible to the ex-service man.

"One amendment establishes preference for all honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, wives of disabled men and widows of service men in appointments to certain positions in the District of Columbia. "Another amendment provides for the reinstatement of all civil service employees who went to war. Another restores to their place on the civil service eligibility list all those who lost their civil service status by reason of joining the military or naval forces.

"A fourth amendment makes it possible for a disabled ex-service man to hold a civil service position in spite of his disability upon the certification of the Federal Board for Vocational Training that he has been trained for and is capable of performing the work.

"The fifth and last amendment provides that, instead of the percentage of 70 required to be made on the regular civil service examinations, a percentage of 65 made by ex-service persons shall result not only in their passing, but in their being placed on the civil service eligibility list above all others regardless of the marks made.

Two Orders by the President.
"Of the two executive orders of the President on the subject of civil service and the ex-service men, one provides for the reinstatement, within five years of an honorable discharge, of those who held positions before the war in the competitive classified service, and the other extends civil service preference regulations to all postmasterhips of the first, second and third classes.

Despite the fact that 60,000 war veterans are on the civil service eligibility list and that these changes have been made in the law in their interest, only 15,750 have so far received civil service appointments. There are two reasons for this. The first and most obvious is that there have not been 60,000 vacancies. The second is that the law requires in the making of the civil service appointments the names of the three highest eligibles shall be submitted to the department head. Where the name of an ex-service man is submitted along with the names of two other persons who have made the highest marks of any civilians taking the examination, the department head may choose either the ex-service man or one of the other two eligibles for the position. Thus, all of the congressional amendments and preference talk notwithstanding, the civil service job for the ex-service man depends in a great measure upon the department heads of the Government.

"Salaries in the civil service vary greatly. The average departmental position in Washington pays anywhere from $120 to $300 a year, while many civil service positions in the work of the different departments throughout the country pay as low as $500 a year with quarters and mount as high as $5000 a year. All salaries under $2500 carry a yearly bonus of $240."

Information as to how to get a place in the civil service may be procured from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or the postoffice or custom house in any city.

VETERAN ARMY OFFICER RETIRES SECOND TIME

Col. H. S. Howland Won D. S. C. After Being Recalled From "Disabled" List in 1917.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—American army orders list the retirement for the second time of Col. Harry S. Howland, a veteran soldier who was recalled from the retired list when the United States entered the war and whose wounds received in taking a strong enemy position, forced him again to the retired list because of "physical disability." He is only 41 years old and has won the Distinguished Service Cross, as well as many citations in service in the Philippines and in other campaigns.

Placed on the retired list in September, 1915, because of "disability in the line of duty" in the Philippines, this "disabled" officer at his own request was ordered restored to active service a month after this country entered the war. His rank then was Major.

He rejoined his old commander, Major-General Leonard Wood, on an inspection tour of the front—on the same trip on which Gen. Wood was wounded—and then received permission to remain in France for assignment to a combat unit. He was placed in command of the 138th Infantry in the 36th Division when that organization of Missouri and Kansas militia reached the front ready for battle.

Under his leadership the regiment bore the brunt of a heavy attack on Cheppy, considered one of the pivotal points of the Hindenburg line, and cut to pieces in the early stages of the battle, went forward to its objectives after three hours of grueling punishment. For his bravery in this engagement he was cited in a general order in this language:

"Col. Harry S. Howland, commanding the 138th Infantry: For courage, skill, intrepidity and steadfastness, resulting in the capture of the enemy's stronghold, Cheppy. With his left hand shattered by hostile shellfire he continued in command of a mere handful of men and held his ground, subjected to heavy artillery and machine gun fire from front and both flanks until about noon, when the arrival of French and American tanks enabled him with his infantry to attack and capture or destroy many machine gun nests on both flanks."

The citation of award of the Distinguished Service Cross told of his exploit of capturing a German post with a "mixed detachment, partly noncombatants," which he had led through a heavy fog, far in advance of the American combat troops. He was also made an officer of the Legion of Honor, and Marshal Pétain personally awarded him the Croix de Guerre with palm.

He was cited several times during his service in the Philippines, where he served both as field and staff officer under Lawton, Funston and Wood. He was also Deputy Provost Marshal of the A. E. F. in France and adviser to the Polish military and diplomatic missions at the peace conference.

Col. Howland was born in Sweden, and his first service in the American army was during the Spanish war, when he enlisted. He was commissioned as a reward for excellent service and remained in the army continuously until his first retirement in 1915. Upon his second retirement he told the Adjutant General that he was still 43 years short of usual retirement age and that when the army in any other emergency was ready to waive "physical disabilities" he was ready to serve again. He will return to his home at Pasadena, Cal.

MAN INJURED IN DYNAMITING OF HIS HOUSE DIES; THIRD VICTIM
Neighbor With Whom He Had Trouble on Election Day Is Held as Suspect.

By the Associated Press.
GERMANTOWN, Md., Nov. 19.—James Bolton, a farmer, whose home near here was dynamited early yesterday morning, died last night, bringing the death toll in the explosion to three. Mrs. Hattie Shipley, Bolton's housekeeper, and whose two small children were killed instantly, is believed mortally injured. Vernon Thompson is being held in connection with the explosion.

Montgomery County authorities said an investigation showed Bolton and Thompson had been enemies of long standing and that their enmity culminated in an encounter election day in which Thompson was shot in the neck by Bolton. Thompson recently left a hospital and the police said his arrest was based on threats he is alleged to have made against Bolton.

Fifty pounds of dynamite taken from the Germantown hardware store is believed to have been used in the destruction of the Bolton home. The charges were placed against the side of the house next to Bolton's bedroom and the building was practically demolished.

Both Thompson and his wife, the authorities said, made conflicting statements to his whereabouts during the night of the explosion.

PRICE + PURITY = WAR DEPARTMENT CANNED MEATS

The United States Government, through the War Department, has launched another drive against the High Cost of Living.

Millions of dollars' worth of canned meats—Roast Beef, Corned Beef, Corned Beef Hash, and Bacon—those meats which American soldiers, at home and overseas, consumed for months, and which hundreds of thousands of civilians in every section of the United States tested and found delicious during the initial drive, are again being offered to the public. These War Department Canned Meats will be put on the shelves of the dealers of the United States at such a low cost as to insure their introduction into the home of every American who appreciates a high grade of canned meats and who appreciates the value of saving a dollar.

Seven years ago you bought canned meats at what today are impossible prices—elsewhere. But the War Department is making it possible for you to purchase foodstuffs at figures even below those of pre-war days.

The quality of War Department Canned Meats is unquestioned. For three months, now, these meats have been on the American market. That the thrifty American housewife appreciates their high standard is demonstrated by the fact that more than $10,000,000 worth have left War Department storage houses for the consuming field.

Quality plus price will guarantee their resale. The dealer will purchase them at such a low figure that he will be able to re-sell them at a price far below that obtaining in the commercial field, and still make a reasonable profit.

These meats are to be sold in the United States, and the American people, whose money through Liberty Bonds, taxes, etc., purchased them, are being enabled to reap a return by rebuying them. Not only will a big saving be effected, but the best grade of canned meats possible can be obtained. Compare the prices in the table below with a similar list obtainable from your dealer. You will be astounded at the difference. Test the quality of War Department Canned Meats. You will find them the equal of any. The War Department stands behind every can sold.

ILLINOIS WOULD ABOLISH CITY COURTS

Judiciary Report Adopted at Springfield With Exception of One Section.

By the Associated Press
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—
The abolition of city courts, police magistrates and Probate Judges from the judicial system of the State were the main features in the judiciary report which was adopted in its entirety with the exception of one section by the constitutional convention yesterday. Adjournment was taken to 3 p. m. Monday, when the initiative and referendum report will be considered.

Another outstanding feature of the judiciary report was the vesting of power in courts to prescribe rules of pleading and practice before them.
As adopted, individual courts may work out a simplified method of procedure and practice. The schedule was copied after a court in England, it was explained.

The fee system for Justices of the Peace throughout the State was abolished by adoption of the report. Under the report, Board of Supervisors shall fix the salary of the Justices salary to be paid by the district in which he is elected. All fees collected by Justices must be accounted for to a district treasury to be fixed by the Legislature.

The main change in the judiciary system, affecting Cook County directly, was the consolidation of the Circuit Superior and County and Probate courts of Cook County, and the City Court of Chicago Heights into what will be known as the Circuit Court of Cook County, to be presided over by 42 Judges. The Criminal Court of Cook County and the Municipal Court of Chicago were consolidated into what will be known as the District Court of Cook County, which will have jurisdiction in all criminal cases and civil right to act in contract and tort cases when amounts less than $2000 are involved in addition to exclusive jurisdiction in appeal cases from justices of the peace. This court will consist of 31 Judges, who will hold sessions in all cities, villages and towns in Cook County.

Another provision in the report states that Judges of all State courts must have been admitted to the bar.
There was no such provision in the old constitution now in effect. Judges of the Appellate courts would be appointed by the Supreme Court, such appointments to be made from the body of the bar, and not from Judges of the Circuit courts. The jurisdiction of the Appellate courts will be fixed by the Supreme Court, subject to control by the Legislature.

TOO NEW TO BE COPIED

In my life time of shoe making I have never produced a shoe that so completely satisfied every demand for supreme style as this new "Resolute".

The last is new, the pattern is new, the color is new. The Resolute is too new even to be imitated.

It has all the swagger brogue effect in the perforations on the toe, the pinkings on the upper and the stitching round the heel.

Yet this medium English toe and the long forepart of the Resolute are different from the heavy effect of the Regular Brogue.

Best of all Style doesn't add to the cost of Emerson Shoes. My policy of stamping the retail price on the soles at the factory based on the costs of materials and labor only, protects you against inflated prices.

Come in and look over our wide variety of smart new models. You will find a shoe you want at just the price you want to pay.

CITY BOASTED ONE CHAIR,
RED CROSS SUPPLIED OTHERS

Coulogne Mayor Apologized for Having Left "The Chair" at City Hall.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—For many months the little city of Coulogne, in the Alsace region of France, possessed only a single chair, and it was the property of the Mayor. It was officially known as "The Chair" until Junior Red Cross of America sent to that city a motor truck loaded with chairs and tables that had been made by the boys of America in their manual training schools. Last year thousands of these articles of furniture were sent to the devastated areas of France.

Col. H. S. Todd and Bicknell of the Red Cross recently went to Chamery to adjust some difficulties that had arisen to block construction of the Quentin Roosevelt memorial fountain, the details of which had been entrusted to the American Red Cross by the late ex-President Roosevelt. At Chamery they learned that the Mayor resided in Coulogne and when they located him there he apologized for having left the city's only chair at the town hall. All were forced to stand throughout the visit.

An exchange of views quickly adjusted matters pertaining to the memorial fountain, and as the Red Cross representatives departed for Paris they promised to relieve the solitude of that town chair. Soon afterward the vanload of Junior Red Cross furniture was sent to Coulogne and the next time Col. Todd visited the little city, it was proudly pointed out that the entire company gathered to confer with him was seated and the gratitude was voiced to the American lads who had contributed the needed tables and chairs.

"Libre" Didn't Mean Free Ride.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—In the belief that they were graciously being extended the freedom of the city, several Texas excursionists in Mexico City recently halted a taxicab marked "Libre" and toured the city for almost half a day. When presented with a rather large bill they protested, asserting to the driver that his car was labeled "Free." The bill was paid when the Americans were reliably informed that every taxicab that is "at liberty" or "ready to hire" is marked "Libre."

You may see this corset in either back-lace or front-lace style.

For the figure which tapers below the waist

The woman whose weight is mostly carried above the waist, has found it difficult to be correctly fitted in a corset. Those corsets which were full enough to be comfortable above the hips, were too large from there down.

And for this reason, there is a special Redfern Corset to meet her requirements! It holds the figure in a firm, straight-line contour, avoiding the appearance of "top-heaviness" which incorrect corseting would increase.

The perfection of Redfern design permits even the woman of heavier type to be fitted in a dainty, lightweight and thoroughly comfortable corset.

The thirteenth annual tournament of the Middle West Bowling Association—the largest ever staged by the organization—will be opened tonight on the Washington alleys, when eight teams from the Junior Chamber of Commerce are scheduled to start for a slice of the $11,000 prize fund.

The event will be inaugurated with the usual ceremonies, many of the leading officials of the city as well as the Tenpin Association, are being scheduled to make short visits. They also will roll the first ball down the newly replanned drives. Real bowling in the tournament will not be started until tomorrow, however, when some of the teams from Chicago are scheduled to try for honors. Among the quintets booked to roll are the Brucks of Chicago, who at Peoria last winter, captured the American Bowling Congress title with a record score. Three shifts of five-man teams are down to compete tomorrow.

Doubles and Singles Sunday. Competition in doubles and singles will not be started until Sunday, when the rolling will start at 7 o'clock in the morning and continue until well into the night. Out-of-town stars will be prominent, most of these being from the Windy City.

On the five-man shift of Sunday, local spectators will get a chance to see Jimmy Smith of Milwaukee, who is generally regarded as the world's champion among the tenpinners. Smith is booked to roll with the Smiths of Arcades. He will bowl in doubles and singles Monday.

One of the real stars of the game, John Gengler of Chicago, is booked as Smith's closest rival. He is not entered in the tournament. However, Chicago will be well represented by such tenpinners as Phil Wolf, Jimmy Bloud, Hank Marino, Steers, Jay Shaw and Sykes Thomas. They can hold their own with any of them.

The teams scheduled to roll tonight are the Browns, Tigers, Indians, White Sox, Yankees, Nationals, Red Sox and Athletics.

Bowling will be started at 8 o'clock.

The Principia Academy, football team will make a trip to Kirkwood tomorrow afternoon to play the Kirkwood High School eleven. The game will be played on Edwards Field and will start promptly at 3 o'clock. This will be the last game on Principia's regular schedule, although the academy eleven may engage in a post-season contest with some local school. The team has played seven games, winning four and losing three, scoring a total of 147 points to 40 points scored by opponents. Blackburn College was the only team it was unable to score on.

Nearly 200 students and a 25-piece band will accompany the Principia Academy football team to Kirkwood Saturday to witness the annual clash between the academy and the Kirkwood High School team. The 25-piece band is the first ever organized at the school, and its members have been practicing during the past month under the direction of Lieut. E. E. Oertel, a member of the Principia family. Vaughn Biggart is drum major. The 27 instruments used are as follows: Four cornets, two piccolos, three trombones, one French horn, five clarinets, one bass drum, two snare drums, five saxophones, one tuba, two altos and one baritone.

Ross Withdraws Application.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Commander J. K. L. Ross, turfman, at a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey Club here yesterday, withdrew his application for a jockey's license. Carroll Phillips, barred several years ago. The former jockey, it was announced, authorized Commander Ross to inform the stewards that as long as he remained in Ross' employ he would make no further effort either to obtain a hearing or a license to ride. Commander Ross also withdrew his application to the Maryland State Racing Commission for a license for training.

Penn Plays Columbia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—The University of Pennsylvania football team left here today for New York, where it will meet the Columbia team tomorrow at the Polo Grounds. More than 75 men, including coaches, were in the squad, which was given a rousing send-off by the undergrad body. Coach Hulsman plans to put the team through a signal drill on the Polo Grounds late in the day. The freshmen football squad left earlier in the day for Ithaca to meet the Cornell first year eleven tomorrow in their annual game.

Centre May Play Arkansas.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 19.—Speculations for a football game next year between Centre College of Kentucky and the University of Arkansas have been opened by the manager of the Centre team and if a date mutually agreeable can be decided, the game will be on the schedule of the two institutions. If arranged the game will be played at Memphis, Tenn., probably early in the season.

MISS HALL IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF GIRLS'
MUNICIPAL CIRCUIT

Miss Madge Hall was elected president of the Girls' Municipal Athletic Club at a meeting held last night at Mulanphy Center Hall. Other officers selected were Misses Catherine Ray, Mary Callahan and Alma Drewes, vice presidents, and Miss M. E. Brennan, secretary and treasurer. About 75 attended the gathering.

It is planned to foster basket ball, indoor baseball, hiking, and field hockey during the winter months.

The girls expect to open the basketball season Dec. 1 and expressed a desire to play under men's rules. Any team wishing to enter should apply at room 330 Municipal Courts Building. Indoor baseball will be played at the Mullany gym.

In order to acquaint the girls with field hockey, Rodowe Abeken has arranged a practice game between two teams from Washington University to be played Nov. 27 at Forest Park.

NEW NEW YORK GOVERNOR BELIEVED TO BE OPPOSED TO WALKER BOXING BILL

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Governor-elect Miller would not declare himself for or against boxing when he arrived here yesterday from Atlantic City. Asked whether the impression that he was opposed to boxing in this State, as conducted under the Walker law, was true, he said:

"As a matter of fact, I don't know much about that law. I haven't paid much attention to it."

When it was pointed out that followers of the sport were of the opinion that he advocated abolition of professional boxing, and that many of them had opposed him for that reason, he grinned and replied: "Well, if that is a fact, they will be disappointed if the bills are not repealed."

Later one of the Republican leaders who had a conference with Miller said: "In my opinion leases on buildings for boxing purposes will not be worth much in five years."

WHITE SOX HAVE NOT RECEIVED THEIR SHARE OF WORLD SERIES COIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The 1919 world's series prize money, amounting to almost $15,000, which belongs to the Chicago American Baseball League team for finishing second, has not been awarded, it was announced today. The old National Commission is awaiting the outcome of the trials of eight White Sox players charged with "throwing" the 1919 championship games to the Cincinnati Reds.

The honest White Sox at a meeting voted to cut up the prize money into 16 2/3 shares to the exclusion of the players charged with crookedness. This would make each full share about $900.

On the other hand, it was reported today that the commission thinks the money should be divided into 23 1/2 shares, which number would include the seven members of last year's team under indictment. These are: Weaver, Cletts, Williams, Jackson, Felch, Risher and McMullin. Chick Gandil is the eighth indicted but did not wear a White Sox uniform in 1920.

Fourteen of the players, Manager Gleason, Ted Jourdan, Eddie Collins, John Collins, Ray Schaik, Eddie Murphy, Harry Leibold, Amos Strunk, Bibb Falk, Dick Kerr, Urban Feller, Roy Wilkinson, Harvey McCallahan and Byrd Lynn were cut in for full shares. One-half share was voted the road secretary, Walter Clark, and two full shares were split up between Hodze, Jannard, Rees, Payne and Trainer Stevenson.

GRADUATION OF 7 STARS
CAPS CHICAGO ELEVEN'S
"HARD LUCK" SEASON

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The Western Conference title of "Hard Luck champions" seemed earned by Chicago University when it appeared evident today that not only was this season's football team a mere skeleton of its early season strength, but that next year's team would be minus seven leading players of this year's varsity roster through graduation.

Those who will end their college football careers tomorrow in the game against Wisconsin are Capt. Colville Jackson, tackle; Coleman Clarke, end; Paul Hinkle, end; Roland Barker, end; James Reber, center; Buell Hutchinson, halfback, and Harold Hamilton, fullback.

Coach Stagg tomorrow will be minus four important players. Captain Jackson has a badly infected arm but pleaded that he be allowed to start in the game. Hamsch has a compound fracture of his right arm but asked that the plaster cast be removed so he could play with a brace on his wrist. Crisler's injuries in the Michigan game, which probably will keep him off the gridiron for the rest of his college career.

Leon Cadore to Marry. NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Leon Cadore, Brooklyn National League baseball pitcher, and Miss Helen J. Sweeney of Brooklyn, will be married tomorrow. It was announced today. Cadore was a Lieutenant during the war and was decorated for bravery.

SECOND SACKER GEDEON RELEASED BY BROWNS

Joe Gedeon, second baseman for the Browns, yesterday was unconditionally released by Business Manager Bob Quinn of the local club. Gedeon recently testified in the grand jury investigation of the 1919 world's series "fixing" at Chicago. Efforts will be made by the Browns to obtain a player to succeed Gedeon.

Dundee to Box Jackson.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson have been matched for a 15-round bout to a decision here on Nov. 29 for the world's junior lightweight championship. It was announced today.

If Kidneys Act
Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THIS WAY TO OFFICE.

A woman has been elected to Congress in Arkansas because she served good meals.

Oh! Ladies, if so be your plan
To shine in Halls of State,
And teach mere vulgar, common man
The way to legislate,
You do not need, with eager speech,
Nor leave your slender throats,
Nor leave your fire-side to beseech
The menfolk for their votes;
No canvass you will need to make
For, if your skillful hand
Can turn out tempting pie and cake,
You cannot fail to land.

Although your lovely eyes and hair
Mayhap may win applause;
Men don't elect a baby stare
To make the nation's laws;
But if in making your appeals
Among good party men,
You vamp 'em with a few square meals,
That's something else again.
Among the common run of gent,
Who all are hungry critters,
Corn beef is more than eloquence
And logic less than fritters.

And rightly so, for charms may wane
(In fact, they always do),
But cooking needs the sort of brain
That lasts a lifetime through.
That's something else again.
Men know the qualities that make
A really gifted cook,
And that the hand that broils a steak
Can write a statute book.
And in the happy future years,
If for great place you sigh,
You need not care who gets men's cheers
If you can bake their pie!

GENEVA, Nov. 20.—The League of Nations was taken by the assembly of the league at today's

Affairs, H. A. Van Karnebeek, introduced a resolution for reconsideration of

The resolution provides that reconsideration be conducted by committees, to make the meaning of the article clearer.
